Kim Clement's Two-Term Donald Trump Prophecies Are

Fulfilled

Kim Clement's accurate prophecies regarding Donald Trump as a two-term president have been fulfilled following the Nov. 5, 2024 election results.

Back in 2007, Clement prophesied about the rise of Donald Trump to the presidency, and even more, that he would be a two-term president. Now that Trump has won the 2024 election, this prophecy has been fulfilled.

Breaking News. Spirit-Filled Stories. Subscribe to Charisma on YouTube now!

"There will be a praying president, not a religious one. For I will fool the people, says the Lord. I will fool the people, yes I will," Clement prophesied. "God says, the one that is chosen shall go in and they shall say, 'He has hot blood.' For the Spirit of God says, 'Yes, he may have hot blood, but he will bring the walls of protection on this country in a greater way, and the economy of this country shall change rapidly,' says the Lord of hosts."

1. Just as salt slows down the decay of food, we are called to halt the moral decay of our society.

"He doesn't call us sugar," says Savchuk. "We are sweet, we are supposed to have the fruit of the Spirit, but the nature of who we are to this world is not sugar. Sugar actually brings sometimes a decay to your teeth, and it's not good for your health. But salt has the ability to slow down a decay of something that is rotten."

Breaking News. Spirit-Filled Stories. Subscribe to Charisma on YouTube now!

Right now, we see our society decaying at all-time high. Indoctrination and the mutilation of children has become the norm, the LGBTQ agenda has infiltrated every part of our culture, the sanctity of marriage and the family unit has disintegrated, human trafficking and drug use continues to cause issues across the nation and the altar of abortion has taken over the nation. It is the job of the Christian to vote for the policies that will most closely align with the biblical prescription to these issues.

2. The church was never intended to be the salt and light to itself.

"Salt does no good if left in the salt shaker," Savchuk says. "Nobody buys salt to keep it in the salt shaker. It cannot flavor your food if it stays in the salt said you are the light, the salt of the earth. He did not say you're the salt of the church."

To order Troy Anderson's new book, "The Trump Code," visit .

Savchuk points out that we are called to be a light across every space of society, spreading the hope of the gospel to all creation.

"Joseph influenced Pharaoh. Daniel influenced Babylonian kings. Esther influenced legislation to prevent genocide," says Savchuk.

3. Just as salt is ineffective when it loses its flavor, so too can our effectiveness on society disappear when we do not stand up for righteousness.

In a world where Christians have become terrified to vote or voice their opinion, we are showing conformity to the world's standards, bowing to fear instead of fighting against the darkness.

“You look like salt, you profess to be salt, but when you open your mouth and you reveal where your values lie, they contradict with the kingdom, but they are in line with the culture,” warns Savchuk.

Knowing the truth but not actively speaking the truth or acting it out is also a sign of being like salt that is no longer salty.

“We have to be courageous,” Savchuk says. “This does not mean we are arrogant, but we are confident, and we are not afraid.”

A Prophetic Warning for After the Election and 2025

As millions of people flock to the polls for Election Day, we must also take a spiritual inventory of what the results will mean for America's future.

Recently, Jeremiah Johnson shared both his official statement on Donald Trump, and a vision that he had regarding the future of our nation.

After publicly repenting for missing the mark on the 2020 election, Johnson has made it clear that he is not prophesying about who will win the election this year. However, he has shared an urgent message to the church about what could follow after the next president is determined.

“In October, I received several dreams where millions of people were wandering in a desert in search of thirst. Kamala Harris began to build a gigantic mirage, enticing people to keep wandering for water that was never there until they perished,” says Johnson.

In June, Gateway hired the Haynes & Boone law firm to investigate into the abuse case of Morris against Clemishire. Now, as the investigation has concluded and was presented to a subcommittee of elders, the church is officially sharing the details with the public.

“Over the years, Robert shared his version of a story that he was unfaithful in his marriage while he was in his early 20s. In according to this version, Robert confessed his sin to apostolic leaders in the late 1980s, many years before Gateway Church was formed. He stepped down from ministry for two years, and then was restored back into ministry with the blessing of those same apostolic leaders,” says Willbanks.

However, as it was later revealed, what had actually taken place was the sexual abuse of a minor.

To date, six former leaders who are no longer with Gateway Church declined to speak to Haynes & Boone, including Robert Morris himself. During the course of the investigation, Haynes & Boone did not find any other sexual assault allegations against Morris.

“We now know that there were elders and employees at Gateway who knew before June 14, 2024 that Cindy was 12 at the time of the abuse. Additionally, we also learned there were other individuals who were notified in the years prior to June 14, 2024 about these allegations of abuse, but failed to inquire further,” Willbanks says.

“In other words, there were two groups. One group who knew without a doubt that Cindy was 12 when this abuse began, and there was a second group who knew of allegations of sexual abuse by Robert Morris who had enough information that should have led them to ask more questions and inquire further, but they did not,” he continues.

Willbanks says neither of these groups of people will be tolerated any further at Gateway Church.

“We can report to you that as of today, no individuals in either group serves as an elder, is employed by or works at Gateway Church. They have been removed,” Willbanks says.

Willbanks noted how the church is also undergoing many litigation issues, including demands regarding finances by Robert Morris, which they are currently rejecting. They also are in the middle of dealing with a criminal investigation, which no further details are being given about at this time.

Perry Stone and Joni Lamb: The Truth Behind the 2024 Election

In a recent interview on Daystar, Joni Lamb and Perry Stone discussed the critical issues facing us with the 2024 election, and what we as Americans and Christians need to know before voting day.

One of the most striking things that Lamb and Stone discussed is Stone's own prediction from 2021 that Kamala Harris could replace Joe Biden, paralleling a 1933 prophecy by William Branham that predicted a woman would be in a high position of power, perhaps even as president.

"I see this word 'sabotage,' and it's a demon," he says.

This demon of sabotage is something we as the body of Christ must come together and pray against. Z says he had a vision of a "last stand" that is necessary to come against this demon of sabotage.

"The Lord is saying if we rise in faith and we come through this, I believe that we're going to begin to see a victory, and the last stand will be very powerful. And it will turn into another round. That's what I'm believing God for; that we're going to have another round."

One of the things Z has also been praying about is the potentially that even if Donald Trump wins the election, Harris could potentially take office for two months until January if Biden were to step down. Z says if this were to happen, endurance would be necessary for Trump and our nation. If this scenario happens, it may also bring about a rise of the underground church.

Overall, we must pray against a demonic spirit of sabotage that wants to come to steal, kill and destroy.

To order Troy Anderson's new book, "The Trump Code," visit .

"I see a tear in the fabric of reality where the good people of this nation, of this would be a witness of people who would begin to experience this nefarious stuff coming from the other side of reality," Z warns. "I saw these things trying to come through the veil, but then I also saw in the middle of a present, evil age Galatians 1: began to see that there was faith rising, coming against these things."

Galatians 1:4 tells us, "who gave Himself for our sins, that He might deliver us from this present evil age, according to the will of our God and Father."

"I saw the Spirit of Lord going back at it with a rushing power, saying, 'No, you will not come into the natural, you're not going to be allowed,'" says Z.
