

The Department Store Canceling the Word 'Christmas'

Department store, Neiman Marcus, is canceling the word 'Christmas' from their annual catalog.

As Fox News reported, Neiman Marcus' "Christmas Book," which has been around since 1926, will this year be known as their "Holiday Book." The design of the catalog cover for 2024 says "A Neiman's Fantasy."

The new take on the "Christmas Book" comes after what Fox says includes changes from supposedly unpopular new CEO, Geoffroy van Raemdonck.

"If Geoffrey and his team put as much time into running the business as they did on expressing viewpoints about DEI, we would be buying Saks or launching an IPO," a Neiman Marcus employee said to the New York Post. Now they say their "job is at risk because of our business failure."

The "Christmas Book" has stayed popular through the years largely due to the "Fantasy Gifts" that are advertised each year. One of the gifts this year includes a drawn carriage that belonged to 18th century royalty and is priced at $1.9 million.

This is just one of many chains that have fallen into the cancel culture category over the past few years. From Bud

Light to Target and Walmart, we've seen all kinds of stores give in to the pressure of cancel culture. The battle just may also have some spiritual significance as well; Neiman Marcus' headquarters of Dallas has been a place of great spiritual warfare this year as we've seen ministries and pastors in this area battling with sin and exposure.

As we get closer to the Christmas season, let's not let the name of Christ be something we are afraid to say in public, but rather let's share the joy of his birth, death and resurrection with the world around us.

A Warning Regarding Witchcraft and the Church

"The Democratic presidential and vice presidential ticket is the most radical leftist ticket in history," Cahn states. "The woman leading it, Kamala Harris, was ranked as among the most leftist of Senators in the entire Senate."

One of the hallmarks of Harris' campaign is her extreme stance on abortion, which demonstrates an anti-biblical worldview.

“She waged war against those who upheld the ways of God,” says Cahn. “She is so very radical and anti-life that she waged war against pro-life pregnancy centers that exist simply to help and support the mother in bearing her child, to give support, to save the child’s life.”

To order Jonathan Cahn’s new #1 best-selling book, “The Dragon’s Prophecy,” visit .

Saldivar also points out that this agenda of murder is far from the light and the life Jesus came to give us.

“How do you choose the side that is pro-death and pro-child mutilation?” Saldivar asks.

“We are called to be the salt of the earth and the light of the world,” Cahn continues. “That means we’re charged to affect and impact this world for God. We have what most generations in history never had – a vote. That means we can affect the future, the government, the course of a nation, our culture, or we can abdicate and forfeit that right.”

What Did Kim Clement Reveal in His Final Prophecy?

In his final prophecy prior to his death, Kim Clement spoke of the necessity of God's people to get back to the core of the apostolic church and the mighty ways in which God desires to move through His people.

On Sept. 5, 2015, Clement gave his final prophecy which included a cry from 2 Chronicles 7:14.

"The Spirit of God would say, today, there is a recovery that is happening. If My people, who are called by My name, [would] humble themselves, pray, turn from their wicked ways, I will hear from heaven. I hear not the sound of secular humanists. I hear not the sound of the religious system. Many churches today are being crucified between two thieves and erroneous false religious system[s] and man-made laws and secular humanism," Clement prophesied.

On Unite US's Instagram page, Pastor Jonathan Pokluda talked about how God worked in mighty ways, moving students to salvation and baptism.

"I'm here in Gainesville, University of Florida, and salvation has come to this campus," Pokluda says.

One of the students recounted how he saw others get baptized, including someone from the football team.

“This is the spark of something in our team,” he says. “Our team is going to be turned for the better because the Lord is going to be in the presence of our locker room, our game setting, everything we do.”

Pokluda says God is doing something massive through the various sports teams at the university. For many students, this is just the beginning of a life of victory found in Christ.

“So we just saw God move, the Holy Spirit move. There were thousands and thousands and thousands in the arena, and the gospel was preached. We gave them an opportunity to come forward to place their faith in Jesus, and over a 1,000 college students rushed the stage,” says Pokluda. “My heart is so glad, I’m so thankful for all that God is doing here at the University of Florida.”

Dr. Malachi O’Brien reposted the video on X, detailing how four of the members of the football team were baptized, and how great God is for moving where no one would expect – party schools.

What Christians Need to Know Ahead of Halloween

With Halloween just around the corner, there are some vital things Christians need to know about the spiritual darkness celebrated at this time of year.

In a recent video, Katie Souza tackled the topic of witchcraft's sinister plots and how Christians should react.

"The witches and the warlocks and the sorcerers, they all know that authority has been given to us so they want it," Souza says. "We have to learn what it is that allows these witchcraft curses to land because the Bible says the causeless curse cannot have to find out what are the causes, what are the landing that allows witchcraft curses to take us out."

Souza then explained Luke 10:19 which reads: "Look, I give you authority to trample on serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of the enemy. And nothing shall by any means hurt you."

"We've been given authority. It means the power of judicial decisions against what? Serpents, scorpions and all the power of the enemy and nothing shall in any means harm you," says Souza.

One of the things Souza points out is that there is a connection between witchcraft and the spirit of python.

"Witches and serpents always work together," she says.

Another important thing Souza also mentions is how idolatry can allow these curses to take hold in our lives. She also notes how the woman with the spirit of divination in the book of Acts was connected to a land known for their idolatry.

It is this dramatic shift in the Democratic party in recent years especially that is unbelievably far from its stance a few decades ago.

“You see, America started out with the Lordship of Jesus, but then it started taking that out,” says Cahn. “Ultimately, it’s a battle for life, it’s a battle for morality, for marriage, for gender, for family, for the order of creation for our children, for the future, for free speech, for the ‘s a battle over the Lordship of Jesus.”

With election day just around the corner, Christians must not back down from morality or stay away from the polls. It is through our vote that we have the chance to speak up and show that we desire a nation based on biblical principles and values.

Former Diddy Producer, Now Pastor, Shares Testimony with Tomi Arayomi

Rod Long, who now spends his time devoted to ministry, came from a background of the glitz and glamour of the music industry, eventually working as a music producer for Sean “Diddy” Combs. However, Long battled with God’s voice asking him to leave the limelight behind. Now as the world has become fascinated with the cases against Diddy, Long is sharing his story of how God saved him from the depths of despair.

“I get a call, ‘Hey, Diddy loves the record; he wants to use it,’” Long says to Arayomi. “I’m steadily sending more records. Now, Diddy wants to meet me.”

Saldivar explained to Esther that asking God to lift the overwhelming nature of seeing demonic spirits was not a bad thing, but rather something God understands.

“I had a similar experience when I first got saved,” Saldivar says. “When I first got saved I was seeing demons everywhere, angels everywhere, and I was so overwhelmed.”

Saldivar says he asked the Lord to help him control this ability. While he will sometimes see things when ministering to others, he does not see spiritual figures around him all the time.

“I don’t think that you quenched the Holy Spirit,” Saldivar says to Esther. “It is overwhelming just the fact that you know how real the spiritual realm is.”

Saldivar also pointed out that Esther hearing or not hearing from God as much in this current season doesn't necessarily relate directly to her insight into the spiritual realm.

"There are seasons where the Lord isn't speaking as clear as He is in other seasons," says Saldivar. "I look at those as times of growing, times of enduring, times of God shaping us, times of weaning us off of always needing to hear His voice."

Saldivar likens these times to a child taking a test at school. During the times of testing, the teacher stays silent.

"Sometimes when we're being tested, it feels like the Lord is silent. It's not that He's silent, it's that He's taking us through a testing season and He wants to see if we're going to make it out, if we're going to have faith even when He's not speaking," says Saldivar.

The darkness of the spiritual realm is real, but the power of Christ is still so much greater than we could ever think or imagine. It is by His power and strength that we are made new and whole. So no matter what season you find yourself in, God is still on the throne and He has a great plan and a purpose for your life.

105-Year-Old Miraculously Survives Lethal Tornado

God does miracles each and every day.

Jayne Huston, 105, of Port Salerno, Florida, experienced a miracle after she survived a devastating tornado that destroyed her home.

As WPBF 25 reported, Huston was alone in her home when the tornado came through, ripping off her roof. Huston's great-grandson, Rylee, told the outlet that Huston was at home alone when the tornado occurred. He stated that the elderly woman hid in the bathroom when the winds came and smashed through.

"I can't imagine her just being in the bathroom, getting the roof ripped off of the house, and the other wall slamming into the door," Rylee told WPBF 25. "She recounts that as probably the scariest time of her life."

Huston's neighbors found her injured after the storm. She would need a foot surgery and had a bruised and sore back, but miraculously, she was alive.

"Miracle. Luck. God," Huston's great-grandson said. "That's as best as I can really put it."

Rylee also made a GoFundMe page for Jayne to help her put her life back together after having it wrecked by the tornado.

“Born in 1919, she has seen it all and never once thought her home in Port Salerno could ever be taken away. Hurricane Milton brought tragedy when a tornado crashed into her home,” the page read. “Luckily, she survived through this but has not her home and had to leave her entire life’s worth of history in the rubble. We know so many are suffering, and our prayers go out to all that have been affected throughout our state.”

Right now the goal for Rylee and the rest of the Huston family is to raise $10,000 to help support Jayne in rebuilding her life.
