

John Ramirez Exposes Satan's Greatest Form of Deception

Evangelist John Ramirez has come back to social media after taking a few months off of the web. While Ramirez has never been a huge fan of sabbaticals in the past, he says there are times where God hits the stop button in order to make us grow stronger.

"Sometimes God would just hit not only the reset button, but he hits the stop button," Ramirez says. "It's like the eagle. I believe the eagle goes through a period of time of flying and hunting...but then it goes through a transformation."

Ramirez says that sometimes it is critical for believers to go through a time of unplugging and re-connecting with the Lord because we cannot continue life the same way we used to by using yesterday's tools to fight against the enemy's attacks.

"The deeper the spiritual warfare, the deeper you've got to go with God," says Ramirez. "You can't fight [tomorrow's] spiritual warfare with yesterday's arsenal, yesterday's thinking, yesterday's anointing, strategies of heaven of yesterday. Everything has to be fresh."

A couple of the pressing moments that Ramirez has experienced in the last few months include two surgeries on his eyesight, the return of his mother's cancer after celebrating her healing and the immense attacks against his daughter's mind. However, Ramirez points out that while he has been crushed on all sides, he does not question God. Instead, he keeps praising Him because he knows that Satan wants nothing more than for believers to backslide and doubt God.

However, just as Jehu would rise up and destroy the Baal worship in Israel, so too Trump rose up in 2016 and has fought repeatedly against the abortion stance that the Clintons hold as their idol.

“...it also speaks of Jehu as a soldier. He was a captain, a commander, a general. Jehu was not a member of the royal house. He wasn't a politician. He was a fighter. Jehu was a fighter. Donald Trump wasn't a politician; he's a fighter. He fights with everyone. Jehu was not a gentle man; he was a wild man. At times he seemed unpredictable, uncontrollable. Trump [is] the same way,” Cahn says.

Just as we don't know everything about Jehu's relationship with God, we also do not know everything about Trump's relationship with Him. However, God was able to use Jehu to accomplish good things, something that we can also see with God's use of Trump.

“It's not about the person, it's about God. It's about the purposes. It's about things like life...it's about the will of God,” Cahn says. “America is hanging in the balance just as Israel hung in the balance in ancient times.”

Now, as we embark into a new political season, Cahn points out that it is up to us to choose light over darkness.

Zuckerberg Has ‘Regrets’ About Meta’s Tie to the Biden-Harris Campaign

Mark Zuckerberg admitted that Meta complied with pressure from the Biden-Harris campaign to place censorship on Americans’ free speech.

In a letter to the U.S. House of Representatives, Zuckerberg wrote:

“I appreciate the Committee’s interest in content moderation on online platforms. As you are aware, Meta has produced thousands of documents as part of your investigation and made a dozen employees available for transcribed interviews. Further to our cooperation with your investigation, I welcome the opportunity to share what I’ve taken away from this process.”

“There’s a lot of talk right now around how the U.S. government interacts with companies like Meta, and I want to be clear about our position. Our platforms are for everyone—we’re about promoting speech and helping people connect in a safe and secure way. As part of this, we regularly hear from the governments around the world and others with various concerns around public discourse and public safety.”

The letter, addressed to Rep. Jim Jordan (R-OH), admits that the social media outlets were pressured by the Biden-Harris campaign to censor information posted online about COVID-19 and the New York Post story which broke about the Biden family's connection to Burisma Holdings Limited.

"In 2021, senior officials from the Biden Administration, including the White House, repeatedly pressured our teams for months to censor certain COVID-19 content, including humor and satire, and expressed a lot of frustration with our teams when we didn't agree," the letter continued.

Zuckerberg admits that Meta had the choice at the end of the day to comply with the demands or not, and Meta chose to follow through with the pressure.

"Ultimately, it was our decision whether or not to take content down, and we own our decisions, including COVID-19-related changes we made to our enforcement in the wake of this pressure. I believe the government pressure was wrong, and I regret that we were not more outspoken about it."

Zuckerberg further says that if given the opportunity today, Meta likely would not make the same decisions they did in 2021.

"In a separate situation, the FBI warned us about a potential Russian disinformation operation about the Biden family and Burisma in the lead up to the 2020 election," Zuckerberg writes.

“It’s since been made clear that the reporting was not Russian disinformation, and in retrospect, we shouldn’t have demoted the story. We’ve changed our policies and processes to make sure this doesn’t happen again—for instance, we no longer temporarily demote things in the U.S. while waiting for fact-checkers.”

Zuckerberg concludes the letter to Jordan by mentioning that his own political contributions in the last election were meant to be non-partisan. However, he admits that some “believe this work benefited one party over the other.” As a response, Zuckerberg will not be making a “similar contribution this cycle.”

Jonathan Cahn: Biblical Prophecies, the Great Falling Away and the End of Days

There is a mystery behind the end of days as it was written long ago in the book of Daniel.

In a sermon message recently posted on YouTube, Jonathan Cahn discussed the biblical prophecies written centuries ago in the Book of Daniel and how we are now seeing them come to pass.

Cahn first starts off by discussing Daniel 12:13 which reads, "But as for you, go your way until the end. Then you shall rest and rise again for your lot at the end of the age."

To pre-order Jonathan Cahn's newest book, "The Dragon's Prophecy," visit .

Cahn notes how there is a link between the archangel Michael and Israel in this part of Scripture. He also says that this will be a time of great distress for the Jewish people.

"Distress will come as has never occurred. The end days will be a time of distress and it will also be a time when the Jewish people are in the middle of distress," Cahn says.

"The end times will be a time of polarization," Cahn continues. "The end times will be a separation, a very dramatic separation between good and evil. The good and the righteous and the evil. It's a very important principle because we're watching it."

Breaking News. Spirit-Filled Stories. Subscribe to Charisma on YouTube now!

Cahn relates these passages to the Great Falling Away, which is guaranteed to happen in the latter days as people turn toward their own wicked ways and far from the truth of God's Word. The end times also encompass a revival of God pouring out His Spirit on people everywhere.

"You see not just bad, you see also good in the end times," Cahn says. "It's not just the trouble, tribulation, it's also return to the Lord, and it's also the Spirit pouring out. It's people falling away but the Spirit pouring out. Two things happen at once. Polarization—good and bad.”

Clement continued the prophecy by discussing how the nation would rise together in unity against the three enemies that are plotting and planning harm for the country.

“They will say what they tried to increase, now they are decreasing. And God says, ‘It shall be a sign. Now that the Kennedys have come to this place I spoke about it. That there would be a massive outbreacking and outpouring in the system, in this nation. The political system. The three enemies that shall rise up are already on their way, I will take them, I will set ambushments against them, they will confound themselves, and this nation shall rise above the occasion and come to oneness with God,’” Clement prophesied.

To pre-order Troy Anderson’s “The Trump Code,” visit .

The beginning of this Clement prophecy also talked about enemies who wanted to assassinate and cripple God’s people through the power of taxation and evil plotting.

“You are opening up a door in the heavens, hear me, not only this state, but hear me this nation. The three enemies that are inside will endeavor to assassinate, will endeavor to cripple, and will endeavor to steal via the taxes of the people,” Clement prophesied.

“There is a wicked system that is being concocted, that is being put together. To take from your hand what is unnecessary. I will cripple it, says the Lord,” he continued.

What’s particularly interesting about this prophecy is that it was spoken in Chicago, the same location where the DNC was just held. In an exclusive interview with Charisma Media, Donné Clement Petruska, Clement’s daughter, explained that the locations of the prophecies he gave often had great significance to them.

Clement has also had other prophecies as well related to the Kennedy family and the symbolism of a Kennedy who would rise up.

“You told me many months ago that the enemy would come and he’d lay his hand and his sword on the Kennedy family,” Clement said back on July 27, 2008. “And God I’m praying that you would do something miraculous: May there be a Damascus Road conversion of a kind that will shake this nation...I as a prophet make a declaration upon the Northeast: That the Kennedys will have a flam of fire and a baptism that will come from the Holy Spirit that will shake both Democratic and Republican parties.”

Exactly one year earlier Clement also prophesied that God would raise up a man to be like another John F. Kennedy.

“God said a John F. Kennedy that once was to be great, but God said now another as a John F. Kennedy, but with uprightness, with morality and with great strength of leadership, and they shall say, ‘It is JFK reincarnated.’ And God said, ‘I will laugh at your psychics, for the prophet spoke in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, long before it happened, that this shall be a sign to this nation that what took place in the sixties and what was supposed to take place will take place in the teens of the 2000s—of 2015 and 2016.”

This word was also spoken in Pennsylvania, the state in which the attempt on Trump’s life would take place over a decade later.

As we continue to see these prophecies fulfilled and even more that still must come to pass, we can be on the lookout for what God might be up to next.

Isaiah Saldivar Explains Why Not All Christians Will be in Heaven

“Not everyone who says to Me, ‘Lord, Lord,’ shall enter the kingdom of heaven, but he who does the will of My Father who is in heaven,” (Matt. 7:21).

While it’s not talked about often, the reality is that many people who consider themselves Christians will not be in heaven, including some who have done miracles, signs and wonders.

In one of his latest videos, Isaiah Saldivar broke down Matthew 7, which explains what it truly means to follow God and why some people will not enter into the kingdom of heaven.

To pre-order Isaiah Saldivar’s new book, “How to Cast Out Demons,” visit .

“This is probably one of the strongest, boldest chapters in the Gospels,” Saldivar says.

Matthew 7 starts off by explaining that we will be judged as we have judged others. It also tells us that we cannot be blind to the sins that we have in our life before confronting others about the sins going on in their lives.

“Jesus is saying make sure that when [you] judge other people or other believers that you’re not doing what they’re doing and then trying to judge them,” Saldivar points out.

Christians are also called to make sure that they are not spending all of their time trying to reach a person who does not want to be reached. Christians are supposed to continue pressing in to prayer, seeking God and He will open the door to those who knock.

Breaking News. Spirit-Filled Stories. Subscribe to Charisma on YouTube now!

“Often times we pray and then give up before we see the results. We ask one time, we knock one time, we doorbell ditch God,” Saldivar says.

However, we are called to be fervent in prayer and to continue pressing in to God because He promises His children good gifts. As the Scripture says, “What man is there among you who, if his son asks for bread, will give him a stone? Or if he asks for a fish, will give him a snake? If you then, being evil, know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more will your Father who is in heaven give good things to those who ask Him!” (Matt. 7:9-11).

Not only are true Christians called to continue seeking their heavenly Father at all times, but they are meant to follow the Golden Rule of doing unto others how they themselves would like to be treated. We are supposed to bear fruit that could only come from a true relationship with Jesus Christ. However, this means we must choose the narrow road. The path of truly following Christ is difficult, and it means dying to self and our desires. It also means our relationship with Jesus must exceed everything else in life, including doing works in His name.

“On that day, we conquered the lies and the opposition that had come against us,” Houston says. “You are not just a conqueror. The Bible describes you as more than a conqueror.”

Toward the end of their first message, Houston stated that he is praying for God to bring in a big army of people who will be generous to their ministry.

“I pray that God will give us a great army of people, a great body of people who plan to be generous to Jesus Followers Television and help us get this ministry to the world in Jesus’ name...” Houston states.

Is the Church of England Getting Rid of the Word ‘Church’?

It was reported that the Church of England was trying to rid of the word “church” and rebrand itself. While the Church of England told Premier Christian News that these reports are nothing more than “nonsense,” research by the Centre for Church Planting Theology and Research and Cranmer Hall found that the word church doesn’t come up much with their plants over the past decade.

According to Premier Christian News, this report mentions about 900 “new things” that the denomination has initiated in the past decade. Absolutely none of the 11 dioceses described their building with the term “church.”

A spokesperson for the Church of England told the outlet that some of these “new things” included youth groups and outreaches done through sports.

“Some people have claimed this means the Church of England has plans to drop the word ‘church’ or is rebranding itself. It does not,” the spokesperson said.

In the flipbook of the study, there’s a section on language that states, “Each diocese is using a ‘main descriptor’ for their new things, and there was diversity across the 11 as to the terms used. Not one diocese used the term ‘church’ in their main descriptor. ‘Church plant’ is not used by any of the 11 dioceses. Only one diocese used ‘fresh expressions’ of ‘pioneering’ in its descriptor.”

It discusses further church language by stating, “...the term ‘church’ is not used in favor of other terms (community, congregation, etc.) is worthy of theological reflection. We explore whether the question, ‘what is church?’ is worth asking.”

Other findings of the study showed that of the dioceses, “six used language of ‘worship’ in their main descriptor, two used ‘congregation,’ seven used ‘community’ in their main descriptor.”

Gateway Church Removes Another Pastor for a 'Moral Issue'

Gateway Church is making headlines again after they let go of executive pastor Kental Glasgow due to a "moral issue."

In an update to the Gateway community, elder Tra Willbanks gave the news about Glasgow's exit from church leadership.

"As of Monday this week, Kental Glasgow is no longer employed at Gateway," Willbanks said. "We were informed last week of a moral issue, which we believe as elders disqualifies him from serving in the role that he had at Gateway."

Adana Wilson will take over Glasgow's former position for Gateway Church. According to Gateway's website, Wilson works as the campus pastor at Gateway's Frisco site.

"What this does do is it makes a way for us now to promote Adana Wilson into overseeing the campus pastors. So, Adana effective yesterday, stepped into that role. We're excited for Adana, Adana is going to be a perfect person to take on this responsibility, and she's going to do terrific," Willbanks said.

Willbanks concluded his message by asking the Gateway family to continue praying for the church, for the Glasgow family and for Wilson's new role.

Breaking News. Spirit-Filled Stories. Subscribe to Charisma on YouTube now!

"I want to ask you to continue to pray for our family, pray for Kental and his family, pray for Adana and her family as she steps into this role as well with new responsibilities. We love you, and we do thank you for continuing to pray for us during this time," Willbanks said.

When asked by the Christian Post what Glasgow's moral issue was, the executive director of Gateway, Lawrence Swicegood, said that the problem had "nothing to do with the departure of Robert Morris nor related to those circumstances."

Swicegood further told the Christian Post, "It recently came to light that Kental Glasgow had a moral failure, so we've asked him to step down as a pastor at Gateway and devote time to his marriage and family."

This news come in light of another lawsuit that Gateway has found themselves entrenched in after claims that a 13-year-old was assaulted by another youth group member between 2016 and 2017 during youth group meetings Gateway held at The King's University in Southlake. The Houston branch of Gateway, which is pastored by Robert Morris' son-in-law, Ethan Fisher, also changed names to Newlands Church.

Currently, Max Lucado and Joakim Lundqvist have taken on temporary roles to help the church out in this time of need.

To pre-order Joakim Lundqvist's new book, "Shine Your Light," visit .

Continue to lift up Gateway Church as much continues to change in this spiritual community.

Biden Admin Talks How to Make Nuclear Weapons 'Queer' Friendly

What is a queer nuclear weapon?

According to Fox News, the Department of Energy hired Sneha Nair as an assistant for the National Nuclear Security Administration. It is Nair's goal to end "white supremacy" within this area of government and to begin "queering nuclear weapons."

So, what does that mean exactly?

Nair wants to change the perception that people have about nuclear weapons and their use.

Breaking News. Spirit-Filled Stories. Subscribe to Charisma on YouTube now!

“...queer theory informs the struggle for nuclear justice and disarmament,” she said, according to Fox. “Queer theory helps to shift the perception of nuclear weapons as instruments for security by telling the hidden stories of displacement, illness and trauma caused by their production and testing.”

Apparently, nuclear weapons have to relate to the LGBTQ+ cause in some fashion for us to know that they can cause destruction.

Nair is tied so vehemently to this addition of the DEI outlook on nuclear weapons that she believes we would have struggles from “insider threats” at the nuclear facilities without this agenda tied to it.

Get your FREE CHARISMA NEWSLETTERS today! Stay up to date with current issues, Holy Spirit news, Christian teachings, Charisma videos & more!

“An example of this is the threat posed by some White supremacist groups to nuclear facilities may go undetected if a White-majority workforce does not perceive these ideological leanings...” Nair continues.

Kyle Mann of The Babylon Bee took to X to show the extreme absurdity of this view that nuclear weapons in some way have something to do with gender.

“Another one of our @TheBabylonBee prophecies fulfilled,” Mann wrote posting a photo of an article the satirical outlet did back in 2021 on U.S. gender neutral bombs compared to the Fox headline on Nair’s extreme DEI take.

Instead of focusing on “queering nuclear weapons,” we need to keep our eyes focused on Christ at all times, making Him the priority and focus of our lives.
