

New York's New Direction: Mamdani Pushes for Social Workers to Replace Police

Could we be seeing the end of New York City's Police Department?

The election of socialist Zohran Mamdani has undoubtedly sent shock and warning signals to people all across the nation. Now, with the addition of his "chief architect" to his incoming staff, the NYPD may be facing a significant slash.

Elle Bisgaard-Church, who was a major player in Mamdani's campaign, has helped devise a plan that would have social workers respond to nonviolent crimes in the city, according to Fox News.

This "Department of Community Safety" has a goal to "...replace police officers with mental health professionals to deal with non-life threatening emergencies..." Fox noted. One of the department's main focuses will be on subway station areas. The department is expected to cost around $1.1 billion to fund.

Previously, Bisgaard-Church stated, "I still feel daily, deeply ashamed to live in a place where we allow people to sleep on concrete at night." She said that the changes needed for the city are about “political choice.”

While mental health care is essential, we cannot replace physical safety with social workers. Removing trained police officers could leave New Yorkers vulnerable to crime and chaos. As Mamdani pushes forward with this plan, the city—and the nation—will be watching closely.

Pastor Sparks Outrage by Twisting Scripture to Justify Taking a Second Wife

Scripture is very clear: Marriage is between one man and one woman. However, one pastor is trying to justify his decision to take a second wife.

According to Protestia, Rich Tidwell is a pastor at Ormond Church located in Canton, MO, and has been married to his wife, Brandi, for 14 years. Together, the two have seven biological and adopted children. On the surface, everything may seem normal. However, Tidwell announced this summer that he had taken on a second wife who was pregnant with his eighth child.

As the outlet noted, Tidwell wrote an article following this bombshell announcement called “Biblical Polygamy.” Tidwell wrote:

In 2019, I discovered the surprising fact that God not only never prohibited polygamy throughout the entire Biblical narrative (as He did with polyandry or homosexuality), but He divinely ordained it in several cases, including David, among others. In contrast with homosexuality, which is outright prohibited...

Not all stories in Scripture are meant for us to celebrate, but rather to learn from, so we can avoid the destruction and unnecessary pain that others experienced. From the beginning, God ordained the marriage between one man and one woman, and it is this example to which Jesus points. Part of the great pain and hardship that Abraham experienced came from having his son, Ishmael, with Hagar instead of waiting for the promised child that God was to give him and his wife, Sarah. Polygamy doesn't make life easier: it makes things complicated, messy and outside of the order which God has for humanity.

This story, however, is just one of the growing ways that people, even in the church, are seeking a precedent for entering into relationships with multiple partners.

According to Prophecy News Watch, a church recently attempted to defend itself after a youth minister blessed a marriage union between four men. The outlet noted that the minister, Lena Müller, said that the men “showed such love” she couldn’t possibly turn them away.

These stories point directly to the end times apostasy. We know that in the final days, many will turn away from the truth. As believers, we must hold fast to God’s Word and the design He set from the beginning. More than ever before, the Church must boldly proclaim God’s standards and lovingly call people back to the order and blessing He intended.

LA Marzulli Breaks Down 3I/ATLAS: Alien Ship or Celestial Phenomenon?

A prophetic word from Ark of Grace Ministries’ Amanda Grace has emerged, connecting the ongoing government shutdown, the month of November, and the biblical symbolism of 40 days—revealing a divine warning and a call to repentance for America.

A Fast, a Shutdown and the 9/11 Pattern

According to Amanda Grace, the Lord led her to call a three-day fast from Nov. 9–11, 2025—a window marked prophetically by “9/11” appearing in the dates themselves. Within that same window, after 40 days of government shutdown (which began Oct. 1, 2025—Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement), movement suddenly began in Congress as eight Democrats broke ranks to side with Republicans in a step toward reopening the government.

As Grace points out, the shutdown’s start date (10/1/25) equals 9/11 when added together, and its 40th day, Nov. 9, fell within the 9/11 window—signifying a season of testing, repentance and divine reckoning. The number 40 represents both the judgment and purification seen in the days of Noah’s flood and the testing of Jesus in the wilderness.

In Matthew 4:9–11, Satan offers Jesus power in exchange for worship, but Jesus rebukes him. Verse 11 marks the moment the devil leaves—symbolic of deliverance and breakthrough in this eleventh month. The message to Congress, Grace says, is clear: “Do not compromise for power.”

Haman, Hamas and the Spirit of Amalek

Drawing from Genesis 6:11, where the earth was filled with violence (the Hebrew word chamas), the word itself bears prophetic resemblance to “Hamas.” Grace notes how the connection signifies a global and spiritual rise of violence, rebellion and corruption—a warning parallel to today’s political climate.

She then points out that, just as Haman in the book of Esther came from the line of Amalek –the same spiritual line of pride, hatred, and destruction –this same line seeks to arise again in modern political systems. However, just as Haman rises, Esther must also arise.

Esther Hidden in New York

Grace's prophetic word points to the state of New York as a focal point. The mayoral and upcoming gubernatorial races mirror the Esther narrative. Grace says that within the names of Governor Kathy Hochul and Rep. Elise Marie Stefanik, who is running against her, the Lord has hidden the names "Esther" and "Shushan" (the citadel where Esther reigned). She sees this as a sign that an Esther anointing will emerge to counter the Haman spirit rising in political power.

As Haman fell and Mordecai took his place, so too will the Lord raise up righteous leadership to replace those who align with corruption and spiritual darkness.

Hidden Codes, 9/11 Threads and Intercession

During the fast, the Lord revealed prophetic patterns to Grace in recent national events—including assassination attempts, shutdowns and political movements—that contain hidden "codes" of the enemy's plans. Just as Scripture commands in Revelation 13:18 to "calculate" and discern hidden things, this word emphasizes that the enemy hides his agendas in plain sight.

The prophetic call is to intercede for those under spiritual and political attack—specifically, Sec. Marco Rubio and Eric Trump, both of whom were highlighted as potential targets for future enemy schemes.

The Warning of Haman and Absalom

Grace further discusses how both the Haman and Absalom spirits are working simultaneously in America:

- Haman seeks to destroy God's people through political decrees and alliances.
- Absalom seeks to undermine authority through manipulation, flattery and rebellion.

Just as Absalom "stole the hearts of the people" to launch a coup against David (2 Sam. 15), the same spirit now attempts to infiltrate government, media and even the church—using the language of justice and compassion to mask ambition and rebellion.

A Call to Prayer and Spiritual Warfare

Grace calls for Christians to intercede deeply for the nation, for President Trump's protection and for righteous leadership to arise in every sphere. The Lord is exposing the "coded" plans of the enemy so that the church can pray, disrupt and overturn them.

Watch, pray, and calculate. Do not be distracted by the noise. The mystery of lawlessness is at work, but My people will not be ignorant of the enemy's devices. Intercede, for I am uncovering Haman's plot, and I am raising up My Esthers to reverse the decree.

As these prophetic patterns unfold, believers are reminded that God still rules over nations, kings and governments. The same Lord who turned Haman's plot into deliverance for Israel can still redeem and restore America.

Archaeological Find Sparks Frenzy: Is This the Real Noah's Ark?

Archaeologists may have just found new evidence about the location of Noah's Ark.

A Daily Express report noted that a group of researchers based in the United States has been using a new type of radar scan that could confirm the believed location of the ark in Turkey.

As the Express reported, scientists have been using Ground Penetrating Radar, or GPR, which uncovered a "chemical imprint" and "pieces of wood in the ground" as well as "the shape of a hall" at the location of the Durupinar Formation in Turkey. These finds, along with "evidence of angular structures" and a "cavity deep inside the mountain" just may point to Noah's Ark.

Andrew Jones, a researcher with Noah's Ark Scans, used a deep-sea submersible to explore deep under the earth's surface, finding a potential "13-foot passageway." It is also believed that researchers uncovered three distinct layers that closely match what Scripture tells us about the ark's design.

For believers, discoveries like these serve as powerful reminders that the Bible is not myth or legend, but a living truth affirmed by history and science. While researchers continue to investigate and verify the findings, each new piece of evidence uncovered in the mountains of Turkey stirs fresh faith in the accuracy of God's Word.

Rick Warren: 10 Vital Biblical Warnings About

Communion You Can't Ignore

Pastor Rick Warren is sharing the vital importance of communion that most Christians miss when they eat and drink the Lord's Supper.

According to the Christian Post, Warren discussed the importance of communion during the World Evangelical Alliance's General Assembly, held at the SaRang Church. Below are 10 of the most important things Christians should know about communion.

1. Communion is what drives us to go and share the gospel with the world.

As Warren described, "one of the most sacred practices in the Christian was instituted by Jesus Christ on the night before His crucifixion, when He took bread and wine, gave thanks and shared them with His disciples..."

Just as the disciples looked to Jesus' example to live a godly life and share His message with the world, we are also to look to this example to do all that He has called us to do.

2. If we take communion with a prideful heart, we are eating and drinking judgment upon ourselves.

As the Post noted, Warren read 1 Corinthians 11:27-29. Verse 27 (MEV) reads: "Therefore whoever eats this bread and drinks this cup of the Lord unworthily will be guilty of the body and blood of the Lord."

We must take the Lord's Supper with a repentant heart, not doing it out of our own pride.

3. It is more than just a generic, religious practice.

Warren said that this act is beyond a “simple ritual,” stating that it has a “deep spiritual meaning and serves several important purposes in the life of a believer and the Church.”

4. Communion allows us to reflect on our life.

“God’s Word tells us that we shouldn’t just start in the communion right off the bat,” Warren notes. “...the first step long before we take communion is to check our hearts and to check our minds and to check our emotions.”

Taking communion ultimately shows us what our heart truly looks like and where we need God to clean us up.

5. It is a time to repent.

Just as there is judgment for those who do not take communion wisely, it also allows us to repent when God asks us to.

Warren read Proverbs 28:13: “He who covers his sins will not prosper, but whoever confesses and forsakes them will have mercy.”

6. This is a moment to accept the mercy and forgiveness of God.

When we repent, God will forgive us of our sins and remove their stain. As the Christian Post noted, Warren explained how the Lord is willing and able to remove these sins.

“He puts it behind His back. He can’t see it. It is out of sight. But not only are your forgiven sins out of sight, they're out of reach," Warren said. "And then Isaiah 43 tells us they're out of mind. God says, 'I will wipe away your sins because of who I am, and I'll forgive your sins, remembering them no more.'"

7. We see ourselves as part of the larger body of Christ.

Warren noted that taking communion is a time to "recognize our unity in the body of Christ."

Just as Scripture tells us that we are many parts of one body, communion is a time to see the beauty of our unique roles in the larger Church.

8. It is a time to reflect on Christ's sacrifice on the cross.

Communion is a time to reflect on what Jesus did for us, taking on the debt none of us could ever pay.

"He did this so we could stop living for sin and start living right, and through His wounds we are healed," Warren said.

Join Charisma Magazine Online to follow everything the Holy Spirit is doing around the world!

9. We draw into the excitement that Jesus is coming again.

Communion is a reminder of God as a promise keeper and redeemer, the One who will fulfill His promise yet again to come back.

"...we look forward to the coming King. This is not the end of the story," Warren said.

10. We are refreshed for the kingdom work God has prepared for us.

"Our communion is our fuel for our commission," Warren told the crowd. "The table that draws us in is going to send us out."

In a time when many believers can fall into the routine of religious practice, Pastor Warren's message is a sobering reminder that communion is far more than a ritual—it is a sacred encounter with the living Christ. It is not meant to be rushed through or taken lightly; it is a divine invitation to renew our relationship with God, to receive His mercy and to realign our hearts with His will.

Pope Leo Releases Fiery Statement on Pornography, Alcohol and Drug Use

Pope Leo XIV released his comments on the issues of alcohol, drugs, gambling and pornography.

After the mayoral election of socialist Zohran Mamdani, the future of New York City appears to be hanging in the balance. However, what if his election and the rise of Islam across America is actually part of a greater prophetic warning from the late Kim Clement that is now coming to pass?

Back in 1996, Clement prophesied of a coming terrorist attack on America, discussing how this would not be the last one.

There has been a terrorist act, and will be another. For the Spirit of the Lord says, America will retaliate. But God says even as they retaliate with natural weapons of war, and they said, "We will go to the place of the East, and we will go and bring them down for what they did to our people as they flew in the air over Long Island," but the Spirit of the Lord says, another will take says the retaliation will not be right, it will not be of My Spirit. It will be a wrong saints of the Lord of the Most High God will begin to says I will strike down the god of the East. I will bring something to pass very soon. I have told you about it. The very god of the East, the very king of the East, the very prince of the East, the one that waged a war against America spoke about the "mother of wars..."

This prophecy, spoken almost 30 years ago, accurately speaks of 9/11 and what we saw happen on that sorrowful day, and the retaliatory actions by America afterward. However, is there something more to this?

Just as Clement predicted, another attack would occur. Is the place from where Clement gave this prophecy an indicator of what we may see happen next? Clement spoke this word from Dearborn, Michigan. Dearborn today has become one of the most significant refuges for Islam, with a current Muslim mayor. Was this prophetic warning not only for New York City, but also for America as a whole?

Clement's warning regarding terrorism, war and the Middle East didn't stop with this one. Later in 2010, in Paris, France, Clement stated:

Europe will be affected. In the same way that Daniel was praying, there was a war in the heavenlies. Prince of Persia. There was a battle going on as there is today. And France shall join forces with Great Britain and some other nations. There will be a war. It shall be a short war. Here me, war will take place. It shall be short-lived because, as France destroyed the power of invasion from the Middle East in the 7th century, so shall it rise up and destroy the invading forces of the beast of the East. And they will overcome an agreement between Russia and Iran...

According to NBC News, family members of two counselors and six girls who passed away during the flood are suing the camp owners along with others. The lawsuit alleges that the camp was located in a flash flood zone. Attorneys for the plaintiffs stated, "Camp Mystic has long operated in a high-risk flood camp failed to adopt legally required evacuation plans, ignored repeated weather warnings, and implemented unsafe policies."

The lawsuit further claims that "...the Camp chose to direct its groundskeepers to spend over an hour evacuating camp equipment, not its campers and counselors."
