

3I/ATLAS Prophecy Explained: Kim Clement's Vision for the End Times

Is it possible that a prophecy by Kim Clement relates directly to the unidentified 3I/ATLAS space object?

Back in 2014, Kim Clement gave a disturbing prophetic word about terrorism and a new kind of steel jet. Now, the question may be asked if this prophetic word ties in to the 3I/ATLAS space object.

Breaking News. Spirit-Filled Stories. Subscribe to Charisma on YouTube now!

“Why are my people afraid? Why are my people fearful?” Clement prophetically asked. He then described a world where nations are blind, intelligence is insufficient, and even the most powerful countries, America, Russia, Germany, Poland, Estonia, stand without insight. “You know nothing,” Clement prophesied. “Therefore, a new group of terrorists is emerging. They are not related to the Taliban. They have one focus: to take the youth and train them for destruction.”

Clement continued, his prophecy shifting to the missing Malaysia jet and potentially a covert mission of steel jets: “So, what happened to the jet? Is that what really matters? For the Spirit of God says, ‘I will surprise you and show you...’ A new territorial spirit has arisen and has fouled the nations of the earth. And God said it will continue. And they shall say, ‘This has given us an idea. Steel jets.’ And your intelligence says, 'It shall never happen since we have implemented the security since 2011.'

The prophecy by Clement also spoke of Russia, Syria and Iran gathering "as many nations as possible to come and strike the Jews," which points back to a new terrorism and wartime technology.

While we may not yet understand the full nature of the 3I/ATLAS phenomenon—whether it originates from space or is part of a governmental or terror operation—the words of Kim Clement remind us to remain spiritually alert. Scripture calls believers to "watch and pray," and in uncertain times like these, vigilance is essential. As nations shake and mysteries unfold, the Church must stay steadfast in prayer, trusting that God will reveal what is hidden and protect His people in the days ahead.

Netanyahu Calls Trump Israel's 'Greatest Friend' in Powerful Statement

After the release of the Israeli hostages, Benjamin Netanyahu is calling Donald Trump "Israel's greatest friend."

According to Fox News, the Israeli Prime Minister hailed Trump with this bold message while thanking him for doing what no other president of the United States has done. "No American president has ever done more for Israel. It ain't even close."

Netanyahu also nominated the U.S. president as the first non-Israeli person to receive the "highest award" of the Israel Prize, the Presidential Medal of Honor.

"I have submitted your nomination to be the first non-Israeli recipient of the Israel Prize, Israel's highest award. As to that other prize, just a question of time, you'll get it. But I want you to get the Israel Prize, our highest award to our greatest friend," Netanyahu said. "When others were weak, you were strong. When others were fearful, you were bold. When others abandoned us, you stood by our side. On behalf of the government and people of Israel, I thank you for your extraordinary friendship. Thank you for helping bring our hostages home."

Netanyahu then thanked the president for “paving a path to peace.” Prior to this statement, Netanyahu pointed out King Solomon’s words in the book of Ecclesiastes and how there is a “...time for peace and a time for war. The last two years have been a time of war. The coming years will hopefully be a time for peace. Peace inside Israel and peace outside Israel.”

Netanyahu’s remarks carry a tone of both gratitude and hope. His words reflect a deep longing for restoration within Israel and among its neighbors, declaring by faith that after years of conflict, a new season of peace may finally be drawing near.

Jenny Weaver and Mike Signorelli Expose the Dark Witchcraft Secretly Controlling Culture

In a recent broadcast with Mike Signorelli, Jenny Weaver

shared a powerful testimony revealing how witchcraft has infiltrated not just society, but even churches.

In the interview, Weaver described her personal journey, starting from her teenage years, when curiosity led her to experiment with spells inspired by the 1996 movie, “The Craft.” What began as innocent curiosity quickly escalated into a life-altering entanglement with the occult.

To order Jenny Weaver's new book, The Wicked World of Witchcraft, visit Amazon.com.

Raised in a Christian home, Weaver secretly practiced witchcraft, believing at first that it was harmless “good energy” connected to nature. She later realized that the enemy uses subtle deception, presenting evil in ways that mimic God's creation to lure people in. Her involvement deepened as she explored protection spells, smudging and invoking spirits she thought were gods and goddesses. The results were initially enticing, with supernatural experiences that appeared to give her power—but they quickly turned terrifying. Lights would shatter, drawers opened on their own and she experienced unexplainable physical events. The lure of immediate results drew her further in, only to trap her in a cycle of fear, drugs and spiritual torment.

Get your FREE CHARISMA NEWSLETTERS today! Stay up-to-date with current issues, Holy Spirit news, Christian teachings, Charisma videos & more!

Weaver's story is a stark reminder that witchcraft and new age practices are not harmless. From horoscopes and "good vibes" to healing crystals and chakra work, these seemingly benign practices often mask a deeper spiritual deception. Weaver warns that the enemy uses small successes to hook individuals, only to later overwhelm them with torment and bondage. Even churches can be infiltrated by false spirituality, with individuals unknowingly opening themselves to demonic influence under the guise of faith.

As Signorelli also highlighted during the broadcast, the church must confront these works of darkness boldly. He and Weaver encourage believers to take decisive action, whether through prayer, reading Weaver's book, or attending services where God's presence and deliverance manifest powerfully.

Now is the moment that the church must awaken to the reality of spiritual warfare. It is time to confront deception, break chains and prepare the bride of Christ for His return. Those seeking freedom are called to respond immediately, trusting God to uproot every lie and demonic influence from their lives.

Amanda Grace Issues Call to Prayer as Hostages Set to Return to Israel

As Israel prepares to receive hostages held for over two years, Amanda Grace is calling believers to pray and intercede like never before.

As she points out, Friday's date, Oct. 10, 2025, falls on Shabbat and carries a symbolic weight that aligns with John 10:10, where Jesus declares, "The thief comes only to steal, kill, and destroy; I came that they may have life and have it in abundance."

For two years, the world has watched the devastating impact of the Israel– Hamas conflict, where countless lives have been stolen and families torn apart. But now, the release of these captives signals the promise of life restored and hope renewed. The announcement of a Phase One agreement between Israel and Hamas came around the two-year mark of this war, echoing biblical patterns of deliverance and reversal.

Grace points that prayer is critical for Israel in this hour because the release will not come without challenges, and spiritual forces often work through patterns and timing. Right now, we must pray against any attempt by the enemy to derail this breakthrough. Intercession for the captives' safe return, for Israel's leaders, and for wisdom in navigating the next steps are vital.

Ultimately, believers are called to stand in the gap, declaring life over death, freedom over captivity and God's protection over Israel. The power of prayer in these moments cannot be underestimated; it is both a shield and a force that aligns heaven with earth.

Prophetic or Demonic? Candace Owens Shares Shocking Dream About Charlie Kirk

Conservative commentator Candace Owens is claiming that Charlie Kirk visited her in a dream.

In a video posted to YouTube, Owens said she had a dream where Kirk told her that he had been “betrayed.”

Breaking News. Spirit-Filled Stories. Subscribe to Charisma on YouTube now!

“...[I] had a vivid dream this weekend and Charlie came to me and he told me that he was betrayed. And so for me, you don’t have to believe that, but I do believe that. It was the immediate sense I got actually, and I don’t know who exactly it is that betrayed him, but I also felt in the dream that it is soon going to be revealed,” Owens said.

“It’s actually inevitable that it is going to be revealed, that there is no one and nothing that is going to stop the truth from coming out and it is going to have international consequences,” she continued.

Get your FREE CHARISMA NEWSLETTERS today! Stay up-to-date with current issues, Holy Spirit news, Christian teachings, Charisma videos & more!

Owens referred back to a dream she had in 2023 where her producer told her that she was 26 weeks pregnant, and it turned out that the woman did end up getting pregnant shortly after. To Owens, her dream with Kirk in it was similar to this one.

While dreams can often serve as a means through which God speaks—bringing warning, revelation or encouragement—Scripture also cautions believers to test every spirit (1 John 4:1). Not every dream originates from heaven, and discernment is crucial when interpreting what we see in the night. Satan is known to masquerade as an angel of light (2 Cor. 11:14), seeking to twist truth and sow confusion, even through experiences that feel deeply spiritual or convincing.

Join Charisma Magazine Online to follow everything the Holy Spirit is doing around the world!

For this reason, believers are called to seek wisdom and measure every dream and spiritual encounter against the Word of God. Whether a dream feels prophetic, emotional or mysterious, it must always align with the character and truth of Scripture. Godly discernment helps separate revelation from deception, ensuring that our faith rests not on feelings or experiences but on the firm foundation of His Word.

End Time Prophecy in Motion: What Will Happen Next in Israel?

Now that there has been an agreed upon ceasefire between Israel and Gaza, the world may be seeing peace in the Middle East. However, how long will this peace last? Is it inevitable to stick, or will we see other entities rise against God's chosen people?

In a powerful video by Pastor James Kaddis, he uncovers why the prophecy of Zechariah 12 is something we must keep an eye on in the coming days.

Breaking News. Spirit-Filled Stories. Subscribe to Charisma on YouTube now!

"This," Kaddis said, "is what the Bible told us would happen."

He turned to Zechariah 12, declaring that the events unfolding in Israel mirror the ancient prophecy: "The burden of the word of the Lord for Israel... Behold, I will make Jerusalem a cup of trembling unto all the people round about... And in that day will I make Jerusalem a burdensome stone for all people."

To order James Lasher's new book, The Revelation of Jesus, visit Amazon.com.

"We are literally watching this verse play out before our eyes," he continued. "Jerusalem has become that burdensome stone. Every nation that touches it is being drawn into this great shaking."

As anti-Israel sentiment grows worldwide, Kaddis notes, "The Bible told us that there would be an increase in antisemitism in the last days, and we also know that is not going to let up." Nations and movements aligning against Israel, he warned, are aligning against God's prophetic word. "They do not even recognize the existence of the Jewish state—the one and only Jewish state. Their definition of peace is the eradication of the Jewish people altogether.”

Get your FREE CHARISMA NEWSLETTERS today! Stay up-to-date with current issues, Holy Spirit news, Christian teachings, Charisma videos & more!

Reading further from Zechariah 12:9–10, Kaddis emphasized God’s promise of divine intervention and restoration: “And it shall come to pass in that day that I will seek to destroy all the nations that come against Jerusalem. And I will pour upon the house of David and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem the spirit of grace and of supplications.”

“God will restore His people and do it in the midst of one of the most tumultuous times in human history,” he said. “This should bring perspective to us prophetically. Christ can come at any moment. More than ever, it’s time for us to wake up and recognize what’s happening in front of us.”

In closing, Kaddis’ call was both urgent and hopeful: “We are living in the days Zechariah saw. Jerusalem is trembling, the nations are gathering, and prophecy is unfolding before our eyes. It’s time to get ready, stand firm, and fight the good fight. God bless you.”

Join Charisma Magazine Online to follow everything the Holy Spirit is doing around the world!

As we witness these events unfold, the Scriptures remind us that God remains sovereign over Israel and the nations. Zechariah’s prophecy is coming alive before our eyes, and while the world may rise against His people, God promises restoration, protection and a spirit of grace to His own.

Now more than ever, believers are called to stand firm in faith, pray without ceasing and watch with discernment, knowing that Christ’s return could happen at any moment. Let us hold fast, proclaim His truth and trust that even in the midst of turmoil, God's plan will prevail.

New Study Shows the Shocking Division in Church Attendance

There's a growing division among churchgoers that just may surprise some.

According to a new research study by Barna, men are dramatically more likely to attend church now than women, with 2025 showing the greatest gender gap between the two on record with 43% of men and 36% of women as churchgoers.

Barna found that "Among parents of kids under 18, married dads have the highest show-up rate at church compared to all other parents." However, on the flip side "Only 1 in 4 single moms (24%) attend church weekly."

This shift comes after years of females being more likely to attend church services than men. However, American culture continues to change as “Women—particularly younger women—are attending church less frequently than men,” the study finds.

Get your FREE CHARISMA NEWSLETTERS today! Stay up-to-date with current issues, Holy Spirit news, Christian teachings, Charisma videos & more!

During the last five out of six years, men have been become significantly more likely to regularly attend church than women. This discrepancy is most profound among Millennials and Gen X.

This comes as young people, especially young men, are going to church at much higher rates. Earlier this year it was reported by Charisma how the shift of young men going back to church comes after a decade of extreme feminism and the bashing of manhood, drawing many back in to the faith.

Join Charisma Magazine Online to follow everything the Holy Spirit is doing around the world!

The recent shifts in church attendance are a call for prayer, especially for women, that hearts may be drawn back to God’s house. As more men return to regular worship, there is an opportunity for women to also seek renewal, so that together the Church can experience a full, generational revival. Let us lift up prayers for encouragement, restoration and unity in faith, trusting that God will move in the hearts of both men and women to ignite a powerful outpouring of His Spirit.
