

Domestic Terror on the Rise: Trump Warns of Growing Coordinated Attacks

Breaking News. Spirit-Filled Stories. Subscribe to Charisma on YouTube now!

The president warned Americans of “a very serious left-wing terror threat” tied to Antifa and other far-left extremists. He detailed several violent incidents targeting ICE agents, law enforcement and journalists. Among these, he cited attacks in Texas and Portland, including a sniper attack in Dallas and the high-profile assassination of Charlie Kirk by a far-left extremist. Trump described Antifa as a coordinated and well-funded movement, pointing to the uniformity and professional quality of protest signs as evidence of external backing.

Trump also acknowledged the courage of journalists who have been victims of Antifa violence, commending their resilience in the face of repeated assaults. He stressed that recent legal measures, such as a one-year penalty for inciting riots, aim to hold extremists accountable, particularly when actions like burning the American flag incite violence.

The president contrasted his administration’s approach with the previous administration, claiming that under prior leadership, “faithful Catholics, Christians, and patriotic parents” were unfairly targeted as domestic extremists. He pledged that under his guidance, not only would Antifa criminals be pursued, but also those funding their operations. Trump further praised Attorney General Pam Bondi for her work in exposing fraudulent political claims by certain senators, notably criticizing Sen. Richard Blumenthal for a “phony war record.”

President Trump’s remarks serve as a stark reminder of the need to protect our communities, uphold the rule of law, and defend the values of faith, family and freedom. By exposing the growing threat of far-left extremists and pledging accountability for those who fund and incite violence, he reinforces the importance of standing strong against domestic terror while honoring the courage of those who uphold truth and justice in the face of danger.

Israel-Hamas Agreement: Netanyahu Confirms Full Hostage Release and Ceasefire Timeline

In what Israeli officials are calling a “momentous day,” the Office of Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu announced the approval of a historic Gaza peace deal that includes the release of all remaining hostages held by Hamas.

Shosh Badrosian, spokesperson for Israel’s National Public Diplomacy Directorate, opened the briefing, stating the significance of the day: “This is a momentous day. It’s Thursday, Oct. 9, now two years and two days since Hamas brutally invaded Israel and took our people hostage. It also marks two years in the Jewish calendar since they were kidnapped on what was supposed to be the joyous holiday of some.”

Badrosian outlined the Prime Minister’s three objectives in the war: “the return of all of our hostages, the defeat and dismantling of Hamas, and ensuring Gaza no longer poses a threat to Israel.” She declared: “All of the prime minister’s objectives have now been achieved,” describing the moment as “a historic moment orchestrated by Prime Minister Netanyahu, fought by our brave soldiers with tremendous sacrifice and bravery, but also with diplomatic success.”

She credited the cooperation between Israel and the United States, stating, “He thanks President Trump and his team for their unwavering commitment to this sacred mission to free our loved ones in Hamas captivity... Through steadfast resolve and powerful military action and the great efforts of our great friend and ally, President Trump, we have reached this incredible turning point.”

Badrosian also outlined the timeline for phase one of the deal: “Tonight, at 5:00 p.m. Israel time, there will be a cabinet meeting. And at 6:00 p.m. Israel time, there will be a government meeting taking place. Now, within 24 hours after the cabinet meeting takes place, a ceasefire will then begin in Gaza... After this 24-hour period, the 72-hour time window will then begin where all of our hostages will be released back into Israel.”

Badrosian assured that Israel is fully prepared for the hostages’ return: “Israel is preparing to receive our hostages in all conditions they may be in. This comes with the help from specialists and all main hospitals in Israel. She emphasized that Hamas would not be allowed to parade hostages publicly: “Israel is anticipating the handover of our hostages to be conducted with respect and decorum from Hamas and will have no tolerance for our hostages to be paraded around like we have seen in the past.”

This historic peace deal marks a truly momentous turning point for the Middle East. After two years of conflict and heartbreak, Israel has achieved the return of its hostages and the dismantling of Hamas’s threat, thanks to courageous soldiers, strategic diplomacy and strong international cooperation.

Seeing genuine peace finally take root in a region long plagued by war is a powerful reminder that perseverance, leadership and God's providence can bring hope and restoration even in the most difficult circumstances.

7 Reasons President Trump Should Win the Nobel Peace Prize

President Donald Trump has been working hard to ensure that peace across the world is finally happening. Now, with the announcement of the Nobel Peace Prize coming tomorrow, Friday, Oct. 10, could Trump finally have a shot at winning the greatest award in the world? Here are 7 reasons why the president should win this phenomenal prize.

Trump helped to bring unprecedented peace to the Middle East.

After helping to mediate a historic peace deal between Israel and Gaza, both the people of Israel and Gaza were elated. As the New York Post reported, the two groups of people were found celebrating in the streets. In Gaza the people could be heard chanting: "Donald Trump! Donald Trump!" In Tel Aviv the people cheered: "Nobel Prize to Trump." This cease-fire plan ends a two-year war that started after Hamas invaded Israel on Oct. 7, 2023.

The president guided peaceful negotiations between Armenia and Azerbaijan.

After hosting the diplomats of these two nations, Trump said that "As president, my highest aspiration is to bring peace and stability to the world."

Donald Trump helped to broker a peace agreement between the Democratic Republic of Congo and Rwanda.

The president mediated the situation between the two nations, getting the leaders of the two countries to sign a peace agreement back in June.

In an interview reported by Roll Call, the president said that "We're here today to celebrate a glorious triumph, and that's what it is for the cause of peace. And this is a long time waiting, the signing of a historic peace agreement between the Democratic Republic of Congo and the Republic of Rwanda."

India and Pakistan finally have a cease-fire with one another due to Trump's efforts.

The two countries have long-been in conflict with one another, and Trump's ability to bring peace to these two nations is far from a small feat.

“We stopped a nuclear conflict,” Trump said. “I think it could have been a bad nuclear war. Millions of people could have been killed.”

Trump brought peace between Cambodia and Thailand.

According to the White House, after discussions with the president of the United States, the two nations agreed upon an “immediate and unconditional ceasefire.”

Egypt and Ethiopia have found temporary peace due to Trump’s efforts.

On Truth Social, the president wrote, “Another case is Egypt and Ethiopia, and their fight over a massive dam that is having an effect on the magnificent Nile River. There is peace, at least for now, because of my intervention, and it will stay that way!”

Trump helped to bring a cease-fire between Israel and Iran.

The president took to social media to make this massive announcement, where he said:

Officially, Iran will start the CEASEFIRE and, upon the 12th Hour, Israel will start the CEASEFIRE and, upon the 24th Hour, an Official END to THE 12 DAY WAR will be saluted by the World. During each CEASEFIRE, the other side will remain PEACEFUL and RESPECTFUL. On the assumption that everything works as it should, which it will, I would like to congratulate both Countries, Israel and Iran, on having the Stamina, Courage, and Intelligence to end, what should be called, “THE 12 DAY WAR.” This is a War that could have gone on for years, and destroyed the entire Middle East, but it didn’t, and never will! God bless Israel, God bless Iran, God bless the Middle East, God bless the United States of America, and GOD BLESS THE WORLD!

In a world desperate for true leadership and peace, President Trump's diplomatic efforts stand as a reminder that strength and conviction can indeed bring stability to even the most volatile regions. From the Middle East to Africa and Asia, his actions have not only prevented wars but have given nations a chance to rebuild and reconcile.

Whether or not the Nobel Committee recognizes it, millions around the world already see the fruit of these efforts. As believers, we are reminded to pray for our leaders and give thanks when peace prevails—because lasting peace, as Scripture tells us, is not merely man-made, but a reflection of God's hand at work through willing vessels.

5 Things in Your Home That Could Attract Demons and How to Expel Them

Many people unknowingly allow spiritual influences into their homes through certain objects and practices, giving the enemy a foothold. Pastor Vlad Savchuk of Hungry Generation Church, warns that these items can lead to nightmares, panic, financial or health attacks and other spiritual disturbances. Drawing from his book Make the Devil Homeless, Pastor Vlad shares practical, biblically based guidance for cleansing your home.

Breaking News. Spirit-Filled Stories. Subscribe to Charisma on YouTube now!

5 Types of Items to Remove from Your Home

1. Occult and Witchcraft Tools

These objects act as gateways for demonic influence. Examples include tarot cards, Ouija boards, spell books, ritual cups, or any items used for divination or witchcraft practices. Even if kept for curiosity, they can invite spiritual attack.

2. New Age and Wellness Objects

Items often associated with alternative spirituality can be deceptive. Crystals for “energy healing,” dream catchers, sage for smudging, astrology charts, and chant-based meditation tools may appear harmless but can attract counterfeit spiritual influence.

3. Idols and Objects from False Religions

Any object tied to worship outside of God, including statues, images, charms, or garments blessed by other religions, should be removed. Even gifts or art items from cultural rituals that were dedicated to spirits can give the enemy legal access to your home.

4. Cultural and Spiritual Symbols of Darkness

Certain symbols or artwork can represent fellowship with darkness or occult practices. Examples include voodoo dolls, serpent or dragon depictions, or items connected to spirit guides. These objects may serve as spiritual anchors for demonic activity.

5. Entertainment and Digital Content Promoting Darkness

Media and games that glorify occult, witchcraft, horror, pornography, or violence can have a spiritual effect. Digital spaces, such as phones, computers, or streaming playlists, should be cleansed of this content to maintain a godly environment.

Savchuk then noted seven ways you can cleanse your home following the removal of these items.

To order Vlad Savchuk's new book, Make the Devil Homeless, visit Amazon.com.

1. Repent: Ask God to forgive any involvement with occult or idolatrous items. Confess curiosity or defiance and seek His cleansing.
2. Renounce: Declare that you are no longer connected to witchcraft, divination, astrology, Ouija boards or any occult practices. Cancel all covenants with darkness.
3. Ask the Holy Spirit to Reveal Whatever He Needs to be Seen: Walk through your home, closets, storage areas, cars and digital spaces. Let the Holy Spirit bring hidden objects or spiritual footholds to light.
4. Destroy or Remove Objects: Safely burn, shred or discard items that carry spiritual influence, following biblical examples such as Acts 19:19. Never sell these items.
5. Command Spirits to Leave: Speak aloud in Jesus' name, commanding any spirits attached to objects or your home to leave. Break all legal rights the enemy may hold.

6. Dedicate Your Home to God: Pray over every room, door and window. Fill the space with Scripture, worship, and prayer. Replace darkness with God's presence, peace, and power.

7. Resist and Submit: Maintain spiritual vigilance. Resist the devil in daily life, submit fully to God and guard your home against future spiritual intrusion.

Cleansing your home is not just a ritual; it is a declaration that Jesus Christ reigns over every space you occupy. By removing these objects and following these seven steps, you create an environment where God's presence can flourish and darkness has no legal right.

Chandler Moore Files Lawsuit Against Maverick City Music Following Split

Christian music artist Chandler Moore is suing Maverick City Music after announcing his departure from the worship group.

According to Billboard, Moore filed the lawsuit against Maverick City Music on Oct. 1 before announcing his departure from the music collective on Oct. 6. As Billboard notes, Maverick City Music and the group's label, TRIBL records, are named in the suit. However, the focus of much of the lawsuit is Norman Gyamfi, who acted as Moore's manager prior to owning a stake in Maverick City Music. Gyamfi became the group's CEO in 2023.

Breaking News. Spirit-Filled Stories. Subscribe to Charisma on YouTube now!

According to the complaint, "Moore reposed great trust and confidence in and accepted Gyamfi's guidance in his business and financial decisions...Gyamfi, however, abused his power and the trust that Moore bestowed upon him."

Order Jonathan Cahn's Newest Book, "The Avatar," on Amazon.com!

As Billboard noted, the lawsuit alleges that Gyamfi "brokered the sale of Maverick City Music's masters to Sony distribution arm The Orchard." However, this reportedly happened without discussing the decision with Moore or promising him a commission from this deal.

Moore also claims that in 2022 Gyamfi privately directed the music publishing division of Sony, also known as Essential Music Publishing, in order to "pay all Moore's songwriting royalties directly to Maverick City Music," as Billboard discussed. This allegedly happened by Gyamfi forging Moore's signature needed on a co-publishing agreement. This agreement gave half of all of Moore's creation rights to this group.

The lawsuit also details how Moore made his final contract with Maverick City Music back in 2024. He claims that he fulfilled all obligations, but that Gyamfi kept $800,000 worth of royalties from him. Moore claims that millions of dollars were wrongfully taken from him by Gyamfi through these various acts.

Sam Lipshie, one of Moore's lawyers, said that: "This law firm is privileged to represent Chandler Moore, an extraordinary artist and human being. Like many talented creators and performers, Chandler has faced situations where his trust and talent were taken advantage of in various ways...We are fully committed to helping Chandler recover what is rightfully his, resolve outstanding legal matters and assist him in moving forward freely to continue building the even-brighter impactful career that lies ahead for him."

Jonathan Jay, the owner, co-founder and CEO of Maverick City Music posted a statement on social media addressing the lawsuit.

Over the years I've made it a point to stay silent on things that don't serve our mission and have chosen instead to speak through the music and the ministry. I've never wanted to be a distraction from what Maverick City and TRIBL were built to do: create space for real, raw, redemptive worship that transcends culture and church walls.

But in light of the recent speculation, innuendo, and allegations made by Chandler Moore, I can't remain silent. Not when the truth is being distorted. I've spent my life building this and I won't let a series of lies go unchecked.

Jay further asserts that the allegations against himself and Gyamfi are “categorically false.”

These aren't misunderstandings. These are calculated attempts to strong-arm a way out of agreements Chandler made freely and later breached.

Our business dealings with Chandler were forthright, generous, and above reproach. We acted in good faith, and gave more than what was required, and consistently extended grace. Any allegations of misdeeds are simply not true and we welcome a full and honest examination, because the truth will speak for itself.

The post continued, alleging Moore of “pattern[s] of avoided accountability.” Jay ended the post, providing hope to Maverick City Music fans that “We will keep creating. We will keep lifting up the name of Jesus in every room He opens until the Lord Himself says our time is up.”

Moore previously announced his exit from Maverick City Music, stating that “I know there may be press and conversation around certain business matters that my legal team is handling. But my heart, my energy, and my focus are on what’s ahead. The dream hasn’t changed. I’m stepping into this next phase ready to share my story and make music that helps people feel a little more human, a little more understood, and a little less alone.”

Another founding member of Maverick City Music, Naomi Raine, also announced her departure from the group as Moore, saying, “After a lot of prayer and consideration, I’ve decided that now is the best time to share that I’m no longer a part of Maverick City Music. Being a part of Mav truly changed my life. What started as a group of folks singing in a shed, has turned into something I could’ve never even imagined!”

Joseph Z and LA Marzulli: Biblical Prophecy, Nephilim DNA and the Giza Pyramid

In a jaw-dropping interview, Joseph Z and L.A. Marzulli dive deep into the topics of biblical prophecy and the connection between Nephilim, hybrids and the Giza pyramid.

Marzulli looks at the Nephilim and Anunnaki narratives. He suggests that modern interpretations of the Anunnaki may overlap with the “fallen angels” described in the Book of Enoch, arguing that what people call Anunnaki might actually be the biblical Nephilim or their influences. He also critiques how mainstream theology and archaeology sideline these connections, particularly around the flood narrative and the post-flood world.

Breaking News. Spirit-Filled Stories. Subscribe to Charisma on YouTube now!

To order L.A. Marzulli's book, Rungs of Disclosure, visit Amazon.com.

A large portion of the discussion then turns to ancient architecture, specifically Giza. Marzulli posits that structures at Giza and elsewhere may be relics of pre-flood civilization, built using fallen-angel technology. He challenges traditional Egyptology, pointing out that the Great Pyramid is actually eight-sided (not just four), and suggests this and other features are vestiges of a forgotten technological era. He notes that Abraham's sojourn in Egypt and instructions given in the Bible may be related to this hidden history.

Get your FREE CHARISMA NEWSLETTERS today! Stay up-to-date with

current issues, Holy Spirit news, Christian teachings, Charisma videos & more!

The interview also covers discoveries of elongated skulls, fragments of red hair and DNA work, all of which Marzulli says challenge the Darwinian view of human origins. He reports that he and his team are preparing a peer-reviewed paper in hopes of bringing this evidence to wider scientific scrutiny, but notes resistance from mainstream scholars due to the paradigm-shifting implications.

Marzulli further explores claims of alien abductions, DNA hybridization and supernatural technology—suggesting that alien narratives may be part of the same spiritual warfare framework described in biblical prophecy.

Join Charisma Magazine Online to follow everything the Holy Spirit is doing around the world!

For Marzulli, all roads—scientific, historical or supernatural—ultimately lead back to the person of Jesus Christ, the only One with power over darkness. In a world filled with confusion, now is the time to pursue not just knowledge about the supernatural, but a genuine encounter with the Savior who reigns above it all.

Man Arrested After Plot to Bomb Church with Supreme Court Justices Foiled

A man was arrested after planting 200 explosives in a tent outside of a Washington D.C. Catholic Church.
