

Terry James: Exploring the Afterlife and End Times

Before the accident, Poirot was already a dedicated Christian, a biblical studies major at a college in Texas and running a YouTube channel focused on evangelism. His near-death experience, however, profoundly deepened his faith. "I wake up every day and thank the Lord for how He brought me through," he says. "It is a testimony like no other."

Following his recovery, Poirot only intensified his evangelistic efforts. Through his social media platforms, he has reached over 300 million views and facilitated more than 70,000 salvations. "It's not about views; it's about finding an audience you're talking to," Poirot explained. He emphasizes authenticity and connecting with people on a personal level, which he believes is key to effective communication and spreading the Gospel.

Poirot's message is clear: "God has a purpose and a plan for you," he says. "We are perfectly programmed and destined to be in this world right now to bring life and shift what's around us." His story and outreach continue to inspire many, demonstrating the profound impact of faith and resilience in the face of adversity.

Here's Why You Need to Understand Red Heifers

The Bible story of the red heifer is found in the Old Testament in Numbers, chapter 19. The red heifer is a ritual element in the Jewish tradition's purification process. God instructed Moses and Aaron involving a red heifer unique in that it was required to be completely red and without blemish.

The purification ritual procedure involved sacrificing the red heifer outside the camp, then burning its carcass with cedar wood, hyssop and scarlet material. The ashes were mixed with water and used in the ceremonial purification ritual. Ashes would be sprinkled over individuals who had become ritually impure through contact with a dead body, allowing them to regain ritual purity and participate in communal worship.

Sacrifice or Revelation?

There is a lot of anticipation and confusion when it comes to the prophetic red heifers of Israel. They have drawn the attention of people around the world, especially those who understand their importance to end times eschatology.

Yet there are many who do not seem to grasp what these cows referenced in both the Old and New Testaments signify, and summarily dismiss them. For believers in Jesus Christ, the significance of the red heifer is not that it is used to ceremonially purify priests outside of the holy of holies. Too many appear to think this is the case, when it is not.

The red heifers are significant when it comes to the study of the end times as described in the Bible. This is why biblical knowledge and wisdom are so crucial, especially in this present era, to interpret the world around us using discernment granted by the Holy Spirit.

So why care about these cows that Christians do not believe are necessary for purification and salvation?

Many believe there is still a third temple to be built, most likely on the Temple Mount, where the holy of holies is believed to have existed. But this poses some very serious, world-altering issues. Currently, the Dome of the Rock sits atop the Temple Mount. And if the Al Aqsa Mosque and Dome of the Rock were to be removed, the odds are you could expect violence, chaos and war to break out across the world.

Jesus prophesied in Matthew 24 that the end times would see wars and rumors of wars, so it is possible. But for those of the Jewish faith, the third temple is a very real event that many pray for. In fact, the Temple Institute in Jerusalem, as written on their website, "is dedicated to every aspect of the Holy Temple of Jerusalem, and the central role it fulfilled, and will once again fulfill, in the spiritual well-being of both Israel and all the nations of the world." The Temple Institute has faithfully restored and constructed the vessels which Jews hold sacred for the third temple.

One of the last pieces needed to restore the third temple is the ashes of a pure, red heifer. Revelation 11 and Daniel 9 are just two of the Bible passages that refer to this restored temple, so expect to see it happen during the end times—and be ready for what follows!

Having a pure, of age, red heifer is an indicator for Christians that these days are fast approaching. The increase of knowledge, another biblical prophecy that is being fulfilled each and every day, is itself only accelerating.

Evil is permeating the world just like in the days of Noah, perhaps even moreso with how wickedness seems to manifest every week across every sphere from entertainment media to government to academia.

Even the evil terrorists of Hamas have come out recently and said part of the reason for their massacre of thousands of innocent Israelis on Saturday, Oct. 7—and one of their primary targets—was the red heifers! As Charisma News reported, the spokesman for the military wing of Hamas, Abu Obeida, revealed that the red heifers were targets on Oct. 7: “We look back 100 days to remember the educated, the complicit and the incapacitated among the world powers governed by the law of the jungle, reminding them of an aggression that reached its peak against our path (Al-Quds) and Al-Aqsa, with the start of its actual temporal and spatial division, and the ‘bringing of red cows’ as an application of a detestable religious myth designed for aggression against the feelings of an entire nation in the heart of its Arab identity, and the path of its prophet (the Night Journey) and ascension to heaven,” read Abu Obeida.

Hamas and jihadists worldwide fear these animals for what they represent, the rebuilding of the third temple, and a sure sign of the end times with the revelation of the Antichrist. This is why Christians need to pay attention and discern what is taking place in the world fully grounded in regular Bible study, literate in what God is telling His people throughout time.

Keeping the Main Thing the Main Thing

No, we do not believe as the Jews do in the purification through the blood of the red heifer. We believe in the purification through the blood of the Lamb. But these things must come to pass before the return of Jesus Christ.

Take time to study and meditate on the Word of God. Study the words of the prophets in the Old Testament, and learn what must take place during the end times in Matthew 24 and the book of Revelation. Also, do not forget that the disciple John who was entrusted with the Revelation begins by telling us that we will be blessed by reading it and keeping the Word near to our hearts.

Look at events such as the red heifers taking place through a biblical lens. Use biblical knowledge and wisdom to discern the signs of the times and move forward in faith, while warring against the principalities, powers and rulers of darkness, as all Christians are commanded to do.

7.1 'Megaquake' Triggers Panic Across the Pacific

With the memory of the tsunami that sparked the Fukushima nuclear disaster in 2011 still in the back of minds across Japan, a warning was sounded as the region was hit with another large earthquake.

This time, the 7.1 magnitude quake's epicenter was located at the southern portion of mainland Japan near the Miyazaki

Prefecture and tsunami advisory was sounded. Thankfully, no reports of significant damage have been reported at this time.

According to Japan's Chief Cabinet Secretary Yoshimasa Hayashi, there have been reports of some injuries attributed to the earthquake, but all major social services and utilities are fully functional in the area.

As reported by NBC News, "Seismologists held an emergency meeting to analyze whether the quake had affected the nearby Nankai Trough—the source of past devastating earthquakes. The meteorological agency ultimately issued what it called a 'mega earthquake caution,' assessing that the possibility of a large quake was relatively higher than usual but not that one would definitely occur in the near future."

In the hours since the tremors first hit, there have been no reports of any immediate tsunami danger or aftershocks that could cause damage, yet the region is staying on high alert.

University of Tokyo seismologist Naoshi Hirata says that while the threat may not be imminent, there is a "70-80%" chance that a magnitude 8 or 9 earthquake could form out of the Nankai Trough in the next 30 years. The Japan Meteorological Agency assessed the quake to have taken place 19 miles beneath the ocean's surface.

Seeing as the nation of Japan sits on a fault line within the notorious "Ring of Fire," it is one of the nations most susceptible to earthquakes.

Brandon Biggs and Chris Reed: Examining the Prophetic Landscape

Have we only seen the tip of the iceberg when it comes to global chaos?

According to Chris Reed, President and Executive Director of MorningStar Ministries, 2024 is going to get much worse.

In a recent video with Brandon Biggs, Reed shared what he saw regarding a “Red October” and the fallout that has yet to play out.

Coordinated Attacks from Russia and China: Reed predicts a significant increase in coordinated attacks against the U.S. by Russia and China. “I believe we’re going to see Russia and China continue to work together to bring about a coordinated attack against the U.S., against our infrastructure, against our power grid,” Reed shares.

Cyberattack Threats: Recent cyberattacks on Delta and Microsoft are seen as precursors to more extensive coordinated efforts. “Just as we’ve seen recently with Delta and Microsoft, this is not going to stop between this coordination with Iran, but especially Russia and China," Reed says.

Airspace Incursions: Incidents of Russian and Chinese aircraft entering U.S. airspace are expected to increase, testing American responses. "Russia and China were just in our airspace in Alaska...there's going to be more of that," Reed reveals.

Invasion of Taiwan by China: Reed believes that China will attempt to invade Taiwan before the U.S. elections, although he thinks it will ultimately fail. "China is going to try to invade Taiwan...I think it will be ultimately unsuccessful, but China will try," Reed asserts.

Biden's Health and Political Future: Reed speculates on President Biden's health and political future, "I don't think Biden's health is done failing. I think something will will fade out of the picture. [Harris] will have to emerge. They're already on the news calling her a co-president so watch and see that happen," Reed says.

Terrorist Attacks within the U.S.: Reed warns of possible terrorist attacks on major U.S. cities, orchestrated by foreign powers, particularly Iran. "I see an attempted terrorist attack within the nation that could detonate in stages...[I'm] praying particularly for Dallas, Seattle, LA, DC, and Atlanta as well as Detroit," Reed explains.

Increased Blackouts: Much like the rolling blackouts that have hit California, Reed forecasts repeated blackouts as part of the coordinated attacks on the U.S. power grid. "Russia, particularly China, will try to attack our power grid again to bring out blackouts, remember that phrase, 'blackouts, blackouts, blackouts,'" says Reed.

Foreign Interference in U.S. Elections: There are concerns about efforts by foreign powers to interfere with U.S. elections through various disruptive means. “As we get close to the time of the election...China making plans to try to disrupt the intelligence, the power grid and blackouts in America to bring confusion in November,” warns Reed.

These prophetic words surely cast a dark cloud on the remainder of 2024, but as with all things, God is in control of what is taking place in the world around us. And with all prophetic words, test the words shared (1 John 4:1) and pray against the plans of the enemy for America.

BREAKING NEWS: Kamala Harris Selects VP Candidate

Tuesday morning started off with a bang as reports of Vice President Kamala Harris selecting her running mate broke the news cycle.

According to sources close to her in the Harris campaign, she has selected Minnesota Gov. Tim Walz to run with against the Republican team of Donald Trump and J.D. Vance.

As reported by CNN, “Harris had not formally called Walz to offer him the position, a source familiar with process told

CNN.”

Social media erupted at the decision, with conservative commentators quick to point out that Minnesota was ground zero for the Black Lives Matter riots which set major cities across the country ablaze in 2020. Riots which Walz did little to quell.

Walz was quick to endorse Harris after Joe Biden dropped out of the 2024 presidential race, and is viewed as a safer pick than Pennsylvania Gov. Josh Shapiro, who has openly supported Israel in the past.

With a Democratic platform that cannot offer such support of Israel in fear of losing Islamic votes in states such as Michigan and Minnesota, Walz carries none of the risk that comes with Shapiro.

A former congressman, teacher, National Guard member and chair of the Democratic Governors Association, Walz is believed to also be an asset when it comes to fundraising and bringing in cash for the campaign, as the DGA had a record breaking fundraising year under Walz.

Walz also has a history of supporting far-left platforms such as giving drivers licenses to illegal immigrants, supporting transgender procedures on minors and changing the state flag of Minnesota to resemble the flag of Somalia.

According to Fox News, “Harris and Walz are scheduled to kick off a campaign swing through all seven crucial battleground states starting on Tuesday, with an event in Philadelphia.”
