

Smuggling Christ Into Cuba

Inside the communist nation, Christians are quietly sharing their faith.

---

Breaking the Power of Voodoo

After centuries of oppression, the nation of HAITI is still locked in a spiritual battle against occultism and poverty

---

I Was a Stranger and You Let Me In

Would you let immigrants from another country live under your roof? These families say they had no choice but to show Christian hospitality.

---

The Virtual Church

Who says people have to worship in a building? Today more and more people are pointing and clicking their way to God from a home computer.

---

Shelter from the Storm

Homeless people in San Francisco know where to find a good meal and a warm bed. They look for the bus with their name on it.

---

God is in the Small Print

Even in this high-tech age, the lowly gospel tract still delivers a powerful message.

---

Behind the Black Veil

In the midst of tragedy and persecution, a vibrant underground church is growing in Iran.

---

Invading the Danger Zone

Most people stay away from gang territory. Roger Minassian saw what violence was doing to youth in Fresno, California, and he ran to their rescue.