

Prophetic Word: This Is the Day of Your Breakthrough

For the past few months, the coronavirus pandemic has caused many of us to live with restrictions placed upon our lives. But as the country reopens, we know we can look to the Lord to give us breakthrough.

Dr. Hakeem Collins believes this, and he shares a prophetic word of breakthrough on the Prophetic Breakthrough podcast. Here's a brief portion:

The Spirit of the Lord would tell me to tell you that this is an hour that He is breaking you through. He is breaking you forward. He said that He is the Lord of the breaker. And the Lord says, "No longer will you feel quarantined, you will feel limited, you will feel restricted, but this is the hour, says the Spirit of the Lord, that I am catapulting you into your next phase."

And the Lord says for sons and daughters that "I am releasing new ideas. I'm releasing creative ideas. I'm releasing the spirit of strength and might upon you in this hour, that you will no longer feel confined to the past." But the Lord says, "This is the time to press forward and to break forward."

And the Lord says, "I am bringing new relationships around you ... in this hour, I'm bringing 'iron sharpens iron' relationships ... relationships that are going to keep you on the cutting edge, that are going to keep you relevant, that are going to keep you innovative," says the Lord. And the Lord says, "Son and Daughter, this is the hour that new ideas are coming for, but I'm birthing new things. Creativity shall be your portion."

Seer Prophet: How God Brought Me From Poverty to Royalty

Seer prophet Jenna Winston has learned much about freedom in Christ. She left a life of homelessness and addiction when she came to Christ and experienced an immediate call to ministry.

A part of her calling she says, is to help people grow in their knowledge of how God wants to break them out of poverty mindsets and “into royalty, into everything that He says in the Bible that He’s called us to. We’re a royal priesthood, a holy nation,” she says on a recent episode of Through the Eyes of a Seer Prophet on the Charisma Podcast Network. She realizes that growing up, she received an incorrect picture of Jesus. The picture of Jesus others painted for her, she says, was of “this kind of broke guy who walked from city to city. ... I never had the idea that Jesus was such an extravagant, loving God.”

And so even when she raised support to attend Bethel’s School of Supernatural Ministry, she says, she continued a poverty mindset. God had told her to focus on ministry, and she wasn’t supposed to get a job. Yet she lived from month to month, ending up on food stamps, unable to pay her rent.

In that situation, she says, “I did what a lot us do ... I prayed for just enough. I begged, ‘Lord, if You just pay my tuition. Jesus, if You would just pay my tuition, if You would just pay my rent, Lord,’”—that’s what I prayed. I begged for just enough. And that's what I got was just enough in the final hour.

“Well, how many times have you heard Christians and other people say, ‘Oh, God always comes through in the final hour’? You know what? It’s because we believe that so often, we expect and believe, to have to wait on God to the final hour, because we always want to believe that He’s growing us ... how many of us have fallen into those belief systems?”

General of the Faith: How Unforgiveness Can Set You Up for Demonic Strongholds

General of the faith Doris Wagner, CEO of Global Harvest Ministries, and her late husband, C. Peter Wagner, have walked hundreds of people through deliverance and inner healing. Forgiveness, she says, is a key component.

Wagner discusses the power of forgiveness on a recent episode of the Escaping the Hamster Wheel podcast with host Rob Saunders on the Charisma Podcast Network. The devil finds an easy opportunity in anger and unforgiveness, Wagner says. “Now by saying this, I don’t mean that every single time you’re angry, the devil will take advantage of it. But this is the problem. We’re just not sure when he’s going to come in and set up housekeeping and when he's not.

"But let's say that an individual is sorely sinned against, or that they have been unjustifiably accused of something that they did not do. [Someone] said, 'Yes, you did it,'" she says. "Well, there is an incredible hurt that comes in that individual's life when they're falsely accused. They think, I have a right to be angry at that person, because they told a lie about me."

But Jesus commands us to forgive, Wagner says. "Now, Christianity is very different from other religions that do not teach forgiveness. You check it out, and you'll find that many other religions don't mention the word," she says. She points out Jesus' emphasis on forgiveness in both His Sermon on the Mount (Matt. 5) and the Lord's Prayer (Matt. 6, Luke 11).

"After giving the instruction of the Lord's Prayer, Jesus repeated so they would get the message," Wagner says. "He underlined, 'If you don't forgive, neither will your Father in heaven forgive.' It is unhealthy not to forgive, because I think that unforgiveness is some of the most nourishing demon food on planet Earth. And if you harbor unforgiveness, you're really setting yourself up for further problems, and a demon can come and set up a stronghold really easily."

How This Supernatural Calling Empowers You to Overcome Demonic Harassment

In today's culture, news and fake news hit us almost everywhere we turn. And many people believe everything they read—except the Word of God.

“You believe all the stuff that you read online, but you don't believe the stuff that's in the Word of God,” says revivalist Isaiah Saldivar on the Revival Lifestyle podcast on the Charisma Podcast Network. “You read CNN, you read Fox News, you read fake Facebook articles, and then you read your Bible, and you believe all of the hoaxes and conspiracies and this and that ... the earth is flat and aliens are coming. You have all these ideas, and then you read your Bible and say, ‘I don't really know about all that,’” he says.

Saldivar adds that people seem to have trouble accepting the authority of Scripture when it comes to the supernatural. But God has a message for us. “Now is the time that the kingdom has come,” Saldivar says. “Now is the time to break out of every demonic harassment, to see and understand that the enemy has tried to harass you. He's trying to get you to slow down. He's trying to get you to quit. He's trying to discourage you and get you to give up.”

Saldivar explains that in the book of Acts, Satan attacked the disciples “because they were establishing a new supernatural kingdom on the earth.” And that assignment, he says, has not changed. “When you're at work, you're not bringing a fire to your local church. You're bringing a supernatural kingdom that is on the inside of you, that is waiting to be released. And that kingdom is a culture. It's a lifestyle. God is establishing a supernatural kingdom; your mission on this earth is not to get out of bed for a career. It's to get out of bed for a calling. And your calling is where could I establish the kingdom of God?"

Saldivar says that as we establish the kingdom of God, we use his authority to bring healing, cast out demons and more. "Jesus was saying, 'I want you to make your sphere of influence your atmosphere,'" he says. "I want you to make it just like it is up in heaven. So if there [are] no people who have demons in heaven, then I want to make your sphere of influence demon-free."

How God's Genesis Creation Connects With Your New-Creation Life

Scripture teaches us that believers are new creations in Christ and that in Christ "all things have become new" (2 Cor. 5:17). And what God did in Genesis 1 at the first (old) creation, author and spiritual adviser Brian Orme believes, has startling parallels in the New Testament's new creation.

As believers, we are "kainos, something the earth has not beheld before" Orme says on a recent episode of his Prophetic Company podcast on the Christian Podcast Network. "We're the only part of creation that is new. And so if we go back to the beginning, "in the beginning," you've got the Father there, Jesus, Holy Spirit. Wisdom is there, we read in the book of Proverbs. As the master craftsman, the architect, and the Holy Spirit is “hovering” over the water, Gen. 1:2, which means ‘to brood,’ or vibrate actually.”

Orme points out something fascinating. “Think of it this way your body is primarily water. Your body is primarily a body of water, and then the Holy Spirit’s not just in you; He’s upon you, so He’s upon this body of water. And then it says in the Old Testament that the Father sings over us [Zeph. 3:17],” he says. “So He’s singing over us, a body of water that the Holy Spirit is upon. And we are children of light. We’re called children of light. When a kingdom of light, we’re called to be the light of the world.

“So you can see all old creation is very similar to new creation. The Father’s declaring, ‘Let there be light,’ Jesus is being revealed; the Holy Spirit is upon the waters. And now new creation: We’re primarily a body of water,” Orme says. “The Holy Spirit is on us. He is singing over us. We are be the light of the world. We are a new creation; we are the only part of creation that is new. We are the only part of the cosmos that are new. So all of the whole creation is groaning, Romans 8, “that we would be made manifest,” that we would know who we are. That would grow up into the head, Jesus, and function with the purpose and grace that were given to us before time began.”

How God Miraculously Healed One Woman After 17 Years of Suffering

Shameka Usher dealt with debilitating medical issues most of her life. Diagnosed with ulcerative colitis as a middle schooler, she endured years of pain and problems until she received an even more devastating diagnosis at age 21: Crohn's Disease, a chronic inflammatory disease of the bowels.

But after 17 years of suffering, Usher has a powerful testimony of God's healing power. She shares it with host James Alford on the Kingdom Authority podcast on the Charisma Podcast Network. In 2017, she says, a specialist told her she needed to begin treatment with Humera, a chemotherapy drug that is also a powerful immunosuppressant.

"I didn't really want to take it because I did my research on it," Usher says. "So I was just praying to God and asking God, was there something that I can do on my behalf on my end, that will help me to not have to take those medicines for the rest of my life? So I changed my diet. ... I believe God was giving me specific directions."

But the specialist wanted to see how she responded, and "I ended up having a colonoscopy scheduled ... I think it was the last week of April of 2019," Usher says. "After the whole process, the doctor came out. He was really amazed, and he was just telling me ... 'Based on your results, I have never seen anything like this in all my years of practice.' So he was just telling me about ... my previous colonoscopy with all the inflammation ... that he saw before ... but there was nothing when he did his colonoscopy. Nothing. Nothing at all.

"And he was just so amazed. ... he didn't want to say it, but he was like, 'That was nothing short of a miracle,'" Usher says.

The One Spiritual Gift You May Fail to Recognize in Yourself—and Why

The gift of the seer/feeler is something we don't often hear about. As a result, sometimes people don't recognize this gift in their own lives.

Seer Prophet Jenna Winston is out to correct that. "I have really learned a lot about feelers/seers," she says on her Through the Eyes of a Seer Prophet podcast on the Charisma Podcast Network. "A lot of times, people don't realize that they are seers, even though a lot of times when you think of the word "seer," you think of someone who sees spirits and angels and demons, often with the naked eye.

"But there's so much that we see with our spiritual eyes that God is constantly talking to us and showing us, and we don't even know," Winston says. "And a lot of times we don't even realize that those gifts are alive and well in us because when you think one way, you think everybody thinks like that until you learn otherwise.

"So one of the examples I use is, 'How many times have you been in the mall and somebody walks by you, and you just have this strong sense that they're super angry, maybe in their home?' Winston says. "Everyone around them walks on eggshells, you maybe get ideas of pornography addictions ... most of the time when somebody senses something, then the enemy wants to come and tell them that they're judgmental, and they're critical. But the fact is ... most prophetic seers notice the negative first because God really loves to cultivate our ability to see things through His love, through His truth, through His lens of understanding and compassion.

"Or how many times have you been walking somewhere, and you see someone else, and you're like, 'Wow, that's a man of God,?'" she asks. "Or somebody walks into a room ... and you just feel the spirit of God on them. It's because your spirit is noticing and feeling things and other people. Now what happens is most people don't cultivate this gift."

Prophetic Deliverance Minister: How to Conquer Lying Spirits Sent to Torment You

During these days of the coronavirus pandemic, many of us are struggling with fear. As believers, how do we deal with it? And how do we come out on the side of victory?

Prophetic spiritual warfare and deliverance minister Kathy DeGraw offers spiritual solutions for fear and other battles on a recent episode of the Prophetic Spiritual Warfare podcast on the Charisma Podcast Network. It begins, she says, “with taking every thought captive and making it obey Christ. That’s what we have to do ... We need to recognize and acknowledge it as a lie.”

Her own daughter, she says, had to deal with a lie of rejection while serving on her church’s worship team. “She was the last member on this particular worship team, and so they had already bonded and were hanging out as friends, and she wouldn’t get invited to certain things, and it would start making her feel rejected. She knew she had to conquer it, and she knew it was a lie.

“So I remember her sitting in my chair one day and just saying, ‘Mom, you know, I have to just acknowledge this is a lie that the enemy is trying to make me feel rejected. He’s trying to make me think these thoughts,’” DeGraw says. “And really for her, that was the key to winning her battle—when she could recognize this is a lie.”

The way we conquer spiritual battles, DeGraw says, is “by recognizing a lot of the thoughts that we hear in our mind are lies. The enemy is just coming in and attacking us, and when we say, ‘That’s not a truth; that doesn’t line up to God’s Word; that’s not what the Bible says about me; that’s not going to be the outcome that I’m going to have; this is a lying spirit sent to torment me.

“You see, it’s not just a lie. It’s a lying spirit ... [Then] we can remove the lie and walk in freedom.”

Prophetic Deliverance Prayer: 'I Heard Those Chains Fall'

Walking in the Spirit means you live, move and breathe in the Spirit. Prophetic and deliverance minister Kathy DeGraw's life exhibits this kind of spiritual sensitivity.

DeGraw lives out her Spirit-filled ministry on a recent Prophetic Spiritual Warfare podcast on the Charisma Podcast Network in which she releases a powerful healing prayer. "I had another podcast episode that I was going to record right now," she says. "The Spirit of the Lord just released this, so I want you to receive that prize."

Instead of following her original plan for the podcast, Holy Spirit moved DeGraw to pray a passionate prayer of healing and deliverance over her listeners. "'I heard those chains fall,' she prays. "I just keep hearing that in the spiritual realm, and that's all: 'I heard those chains fall.' And I prophesy, I decree over you that those chains are falling, that those chains are breaking, friends.

"I decree and declare that your deliverance is near, friends. I speak and I decree that the devil is bound and restricted over your life. I rebuke and I annihilate Satan on your behalf in the name of Jesus Christ," DeGraw prays. "I renounce every plan and purpose that he has against your life. ... And I speak and I decree that as people are listening right now, chains are breaking and deliverance is happening. The powers of darkness are being bound and restricted and called off and annihilated in the spiritual realm.

"I speak and I decree that the enemy will take your words that you speak out in authority, and he would activate on them, that he would be bound or restricted, that he would leave your premises, that he would leave your property, that he would leave your vehicles right now in the name of Jesus Christ,” DeGraw prays. “I speak and I decree that you are the temple of God. I speak and I decree that every good and prosperous thing is working on your behalf.”

Why the Numeral 3 Has Great Prophetic Significance for Today’s Believers

Christians throughout the world recognize Jesus’ baptism as one of the most significant events in Scripture as well as one that showcases the three persons of the Trinity: Father, Son and Holy Spirit. But what prophetic significance does this have?

Hosts Savannah Simpson Sepulveda and Eric Sepulveda explore this topic on The School of Prophetic Knowledge podcast on the Charisma Podcast Network. “When we are baptized by water and the Spirit, we become a new creature, remade in the likeness of God,” says Eric. “This was an extremely important event, showcasing the Trinity in communion with each other.

“What happened afterwards further demonstrated the importance of recognizing how we are all made three in one,” he says. “Every Christian is aware of the temptations that Satan subjected Christ to after 40 days fasting in the wilderness, but not everyone wants to look under the surface as to why he was tempted in these ways.”

“Those who are more experienced and recognizing the prophetic properties of numbers will instantly spot that there are three different temptations,” Savannah points out.

And Eric adds, “If you listen to our future episodes, you will know that the number three has several prophetic properties, all related to completeness, wholeness or perfection.”

To discover more about how God has woven the concept of three throughout the temptation of Jesus and even our own creation to point back to Himself and His divine nature, listen to this podcast. {eoa}
