

Be a Better Dad Today!

(Regal)

Gregory W. Slayton

Along with highlighting 10 tools every father needs, this uber-practical book helps dads create a family vision to guide both short- and long-term parenting decisions.

Hope for Parents of Troubled Teens

(Bethany House)

Connie Rae, LMHC

©

iStockphoto/Aldomur
illo

Rae knows all about rebellious teenagers, both from her counseling practice and her own son's battle with drug addiction. In this book she offers a practical guide to getting a wayward child back on track.

88 Great Daddy-Daughter Dates

(Revell)

Rob and Joanna Teigen

The Teigens do the heavy lifting for dads by listing where to go, what to do and what to bring on creative outings with your daughters. They've even included conversation starters and Scriptures to talk about.

Together

(Moody Publishers)

Carrie Ward

©

iStockphoto/Deklofe
nak

How do you teach your kids to be passionate about reading the Word when you're not? "Everyday Mama" Ward faced this problem and offers simple ways to stir up your family's hunger for the things of God.

The Busy Family Bible & NIV Couples' Devotional Bible

(Zondervan)

OK, so this pick's a two-for-one; but beyond offering God's Word in an easy-to-read version, The Busy Family Bible and the NIV

Couples' Devotional Bible provide on-the-go families with everything from fun family activities to Bible study tools to devotionals on sex, money and parenting.

Faithful Families

(Thomas Nelson)

Dave Stone

Though he's the senior pastor of Southeast Christian Church in Louisville, Ky., Stone's life blessing is his family—and it shows in the first two books of his Faithful Families series releasing this month. Raising Your Kids to Love the Lord and Building Family Ties With Faith, Love and Laughter both use practical, Scripture-based principles and humor to teach families how to glorify God in every relationship.

Discover Your Kid's Spiritual Gifts

(Regal)

Adam Stadtmiller

By helping your children—no matter what age—recognize and release their unique, God-given gifts, you can develop a sense of identity in them that will serve them for life.

Growing Great Kids

(Charisma House)

Kate Battistelli

The mother of award-winning artist Francesca Battistelli shares how she raised her child to follow God's calling and gives biblical wisdom as to how other parents can too.

Busy Mom's Guide to ...

(Tyndale House)

Paul C. Reisser, M.D.

A family physician for more than 30 years, Reisser knows the questions moms have as they walk through everything from the “terrible twos” to teen hormones. The Busy Mom’s Guide to ... series features a trio of parenting books targeting young children, teens and family nutrition, and puts vital information in a comprehensive yet practical, question-and-answer format.

Real Marriage DVD Study Kit

(Thomas Nelson)

Mark and Grace Driscoll

Since the book Real Marriage released in January, churches across denominational lines have used its bold yet scriptural take on tough issues to help improve marriages. This DVD study kit makes it even easier for classroom or small-group applications as the Driscolls tackle the “tricky” marriage questions most Christian books won’t touch.

The pastoral couple also provides conversation starters for study groups.