

What Chonda Pierce Did When Her Son Blocked Her on Facebook

What's the right way to parent teenagers on social media? When comedian Chonda Pierce found out her son blocked her on Facebook, find out how she responded.

Why Leviticus Is One of the Most Revolutionary Books Ever Written

Leviticus is well-known by Christians as one of the most difficult books in the Bible to read. Many believers are bored by its long lists of sacrifices and priestly responsibilities. But this animated video explains why Leviticus deserves its place in the Bible—and why it's one of the most revolutionary books ever written.

Facing Cancer Diagnosis,

Casting Crowns Singer Rebukes the Spirit of Fear in New Video

Mark Hall, lead singer of Casting Crowns, was stunned by a shocking cancer diagnosis. In his grief, he turned to God and prayed an honest prayer. The band's latest single, "Oh My Soul," makes that prayer a universal cry for every believer.

Francis Chan: What Every Person Needs to Know About Demons

Most pastors don't preach in-depth theological sermons about demons. Francis Chan isn't most pastors. The Crazy Love author explains what's really going on in the spiritual realm—and how believers ought to respond.

Chip and Joanna Gaines Share

How Their Marriage Deepened Their Love for God

You may think you know Chip and Joanna Gaines from HGTV's hit show Fixer Upper. But this interview with "I Am Second" lets them pull back the curtain on their background, their marriage and even their faith.

Switchfoot Promises to Live for God in New Music Video

Switchfoot has a knack for writing worshipful rock anthems, from "Dare You to Move" to "Your Love Is a Song." Now the band's done it again with "Live It Well," a stirring call for believers to make the most of their limited time for God.

Jentezen Franklin: To Be Least in Heaven Is Even Better Than Being President

Many people get caught up trying to get ahead or get power in life. Yet Jentezen Franklin reminds viewers, "To be the least in the kingdom of heaven is better than being president of the United States.”

Matt Redman Performs ‘10,000 Reasons’ to Packed Times Square Crowd

You’ve probably heard “10,000 Reasons” performed at your church. But you’ve never heard it performed live in Times Square. Matt Redman leads the massive crowd in pure worship to the Lord.

Bill Johnson: How to Escape This Common Religious Rut

Pastor Bill Johnson believes many well-meaning Christians accidentally end up in spiritual ruts because they forget to dwell on God. But there’s a way out of that rut—and Mark 4 holds the key.

Tim Hawkins: The Funny Detail No One Ever Remembers About Job

Comedian Tim Hawkins was reading Job and realized something funny. When God took everything from Job, he left one person unharmed: Job's wife. Hawkins jokes about it in this instantly classic clip.