

The Imam's Daughter

The Imam's Daughter

Hannah Shah

Zondervan

Hannah Shah's family was devout Muslim, and for years her father, a Muslim leader, abused her. When she was 16, Hannah discovered that her family arranged for her to marry in Pakistan. She ran away but was relentlessly hunted by her father and brothers. Eventually, Hannah made a new life for herself and became a Christian. She now travels speaking to bring hope to others facing similar situations.
