

3 Prophetic Words about the Spiritual Battle You're Fighting

In this season, people from around the world are contacting me about the rising spiritual warfare. The Holy Spirit gave me three prophetic words about spiritual warfare that I hope encourage you in the battle. You can read them below.

Change Your Perspective About Enemy Attacks

So often when you are in the midst of spiritual warfare, when the enemy is harassing you, I hear you say three words that trouble Me: "I'm under attack." Listen carefully to My words and change your perspective. You are not under attack; the attack is under you! The enemy is under your feet, and you are seated over him in heavenly places in Christ Jesus.

Change your perspective! Yes, the enemy is doing his job, but that won't stop you from doing yours. Determine that Father's will shall be done, and any enemy that stands in the way of your heavenly assignment must bow in the name of Jesus.

Follow My Spiritual Warfare Strategy

When it comes to spiritual warfare, there's a time to shout and a time to stay silent. I am the One who gives you the spiritual warfare strategy. I am the One who gives you the blueprint that leads to victory. When you walk in my wisdom in spiritual warfare, you can be sure the enemy will be delivered into your hands.

Sometimes you have to hold your peace, like the Israelites stuck between the Red Sea and the Egyptian army. Other times you have to shout like Joshua at Jericho. Before rushing into battle against your spiritual enemies, ask Me for the strategy. I will lead you to victory.

Keep Getting Back Up

I don't expect you to be perfect. When you fall down, get back up again. Even if you've made the same mistake 1,000 times, if you continue to declare war on your wrong behavior, you will eventually gain victory over bad habits. One way to define spiritual warfare is simply "outlasting the devil." So when you sin, repent. If you sin again, repent again. Just keep getting back up. A righteous man falls down seven times and gets back up again.

Don't stop warring against the sin that's warring against you. I will give you the strength to stand against anything and everything that is standing against you—even your flesh. Lean into Me when you feel weak.

I want to remind you that my School of Spiritual Warfare starts tomorrow. You can attend online. Even if you can't watch live tomorrow, you can still watch the videos any time you want, and as many times as you want. There are 18 lessons in all, as well as Q&As and spiritual warfare drills. This is going to be life changing! Please don't miss it! You can register at .