

3 Ways to Prepare Your Heart for 2nd Coming

Imagine you're getting ready for the biggest day of your life. It's as if your favorite artist is coming to your house, or your top team just made it to the championship game. You'd be hyped, right? You'd make sure everything was ready because you wouldn't want to miss the moment.

Now, think about this: Jesus is coming back. The Bible says it's going to happen, but here's the thing—no one knows when. It could be tomorrow, next year or even decades from now. The question is: Are we ready? And no, I don't mean ready as in wearing your Sunday best or knowing all the Bible verses. I mean, is your heart ready?

As Martin Luther King Jr. so eloquently stated, "Faith is taking the first step even when you don't see the whole staircase." Our journey of faith often begins with uncertainty, but it is through pressing in to the heart of our Lord that we illuminate the path for others and guide them toward the light of God's love

Here are three powerful ways you can prepare for Jesus' return that make sense for your daily life today.

1. Be Real With Jesus

First, Jesus isn't looking for you to be perfect. He wants you to be real. If you have got struggles, doubts or you've messed up, guess what? You're not the only one. We all have. Jesus cares about what's in your heart, not how perfect you act.
