

A List Of 100 Things Liberals Hate About America

Why do liberals seem to hate just about everything that is good and true and right about this country?

Earlier today I was writing an article (Editor's note: graphic picture included in this link) about Kathy Griffin and the hate-filled ideology that she represents, and it got me thinking about a lot of things. I truly believe that her now infamous photograph will turn out to be a defining moment in American politics. It has become exceedingly clear that Kathy Griffin and those like her have nothing to offer but anger, hate and violence, and that is not a message most Americans are going to embrace. So if true conservatives can start communicating a message of love, peace, prosperity, liberty and freedom that is based on the principles and values this nation was founded upon, there is no way the left is going to be able to compete with that.

If we want to make America great again, we need to embrace the things that made us great in the first place. Unfortunately, the left tends to hate most of those things. In fact, many leftists will actually tell you that America was never great. These "progressives" want our nation to be fundamentally "transformed" into an entirely different place than our forefathers intended, and they plan to use big government as the tool to conduct that "transformation".

If they ultimately win, the country that you and I love so much today will be gone forever. I want you to read the list below and imagine what the United States would be like if all of these things were eradicated. The following is a list of 100 things liberals hate about America:
