

A Plumm Summer

📺 Paramount Home Entertainment | Starring William Baldwin, Henry Winkler, Lisa Guerrero, Brenda Strong, Owen Pearce, Chris Massoglia | Rated PG

Thirteen-year-old Elliott Plumm is trying to figure out how to fit in. His dad, Mick, loves boxing and wishes his oldest son were more interested in the sport than photography. It seems Mick is holding out hope that there is still a chance his younger son, Rocky, will catch the boxing fever. Meanwhile, Elliott's mom is so busy trying to pay bills and keep her husband on track she can't give her oldest son the individual attention he needs.

To add to Elliott's problems, he doesn't have much in common with his little brother. Five-year-old Rocky loves Froggy Doo, a puppet and the co-star of the local TV show Happy Herb & Froggy Doo. Elliott has outgrown his fascination with the character and barely tolerates Rocky's fascination for the fake frog.

When Froggy Doo is stolen, the town is devastated—no one more so than Rocky. Elliott remains uninterested in the situation until he hears there is a reward for the person who finds the beloved puppet. Determined to unravel the mystery, he sets out to solve the mystery with the help of his brother and their new friend, Haley, but along the way discovers the importance of family and friendship.
