

America Stands: Real-Time Election Coverage in the Spirit of Faith

America Stands is bringing together some of the nation's top charismatic leaders to discuss tonight's election results as they unfold.

Streaming live from Eagle Mountain International Church/Kenneth Copeland Ministries in Fort Worth, Texas, America Stands features up-to-the-minute reporting and commentary from a panel of trusted ministers and prominent special guests. Among the in-studio guests are Stephen Strang; founder of Charisma Media; authors Tim and David Barton; pastors Gary and Drenda Keese; Pastor Mac Hammond; and pastors Hank and Brenda Kunneman.

They will discuss votes, prophecies, potentials and the cause of Christ as it pertains to who fills the seats of government.

In addition to in-studio experts, short segments of some of the world's most powerful ministers and voices will be introduced throughout the evening, including Jonathan Cahn, Glenn Beck, Samuel Rodriguez, Rodney Howard Brown, Andrew Wommack, Bishop Harry Jackson, Pat Robertson, Lance Wallnau and Gov. Sarah Palin.

The format allows the commentators flexibility as votes are announced by region. Graphics, including an interactive map and ticker tape, will track electoral votes at the presidential level, red and blue seats in the Senate and house, the balance of Republican and Democrat governors and outcomes of the various initiatives being presented on the ballots.

America Stands is a production of Kenneth Copeland Ministries airing on Victory TV, ministry social sites and two Charisma Media feeds.

Coverage begins at 7:30 p.m. Eastern/6:30 p.m. Central today, Tuesday.

Share the links. The event was banned from running ads or boosting posts by Facebook last week, according to the event's promotional video.

"Mainstream media is filled with doom and gloom," said The Victory Channel producer Mary Kurth. "We wanted to represent facts and results with a spirit of faith. No matter the outcome on how elections unfold, we always have hope and God still has a plan."

America Stands began in 2012 as alternative election coverage for conservative Christians. Tonight, the broadcast will sport the latest data and graphics and seven reporters bringing breaking news from across the country. In addition to Victory TV, the live event will air on TCT, World Love, Daystar, World Harvest television and over a dozen streaming websites.

A crew of 75 people will work behind the scenes to bring it into people's living rooms around the world.

In preparation for America Stands, Kenneth Copeland hosted Stephen Strang on Believer's Voice of Victory for a week-long series on President Trump's role in leaders, how God is using him, a great awakening resulting from the election and why Christians cannot stay home on Election Day. The series aired in late October.

Join charismatics everywhere in watching the results of the electoral college and the popular vote. The events will be edifying, inspirational and free from the hatred found so often in mainstream media. Following are links through Charisma Media: and . {eoa}