

America's 'Nineveh Moment': 40 Days to Save America in Prayer and Repentance Before the Election

IRVINE, California—As America approaches a pivotal moment in its history, faith leaders across the nation are coming together for a united cause. Pulitzer Prize-nominated journalist and six-time #1 bestselling author Troy Anderson, author of “The Trump Code,” and award-winning author Dr. Larry Keefauver, author of “Prayers of the Presidents,” are calling on Christians nationwide to join them in 40 Days of Prayer, Fasting and Repentance, from Sept. 26, to Nov. 5, 2024, the date of the 2024 Presidential Election.

Joining Anderson and Dr. Keefauver in their efforts are Anderson's co-authors—Pastor Paul Begley, host of a popular YouTube show with over 250 million views and co-author of “Revelation 911,” and Dr. Paul McGuire, former host of the nationally syndicated “Paul McGuire Show” and co-author of “The Babylon Code” and “Trumpocalypse”—as we unite our voices in this urgent call to prayer.

Countdown to America's Future: 40 Days to Save the Nation with Paul Begley & Troy Anderson

“Both men have been integral to awakening the church and rallying believers to recognize the prophetic signs of our time,” Anderson says. “Together, we believe this is a critical moment for our nation, a time for us to come together in humility and repentance to seek God's mercy for America.”

This movement, inspired by the prophetic words of the late Billy Graham, who warned of America's “Nineveh Moment” in a 2013 interview with Anderson, seeks to save the nation and turn America back to God through collective repentance, intercession, and fasting.

As the 2024 election looms, this campaign highlights the need for divine intervention to restore the nation's Judeo-Christian foundations, avert the threat of globalism, and guide America toward a path of revival.

America's Nineveh Moment: "The Trump Code," Call to Repentance

At the heart of this campaign is the central theme of Troy Anderson's new book, "The Trump Code," (Charisma House/FrontLine, Sept. 17, 2024), which has become a #1 "Best Seller" and #1 "Hot New Release" on Amazon multiple times. Anderson explores the prophetic parallels between America and the biblical story of Nineveh, where the city was spared from destruction after the people heeded the prophet Jonah's call to repentance. Anderson believes that America is now at a similar crossroads, facing the choice between judgment or revival.

Drawing from historical events, biblical prophecy and the Trump family's role in American politics, "The Trump Code," connects past mysteries with the spiritual battle facing America today. Anderson warns that unless America repents and returns to God, it risks succumbing to the forces of globalism and the "Great Reset" plan, championed by the World Economic Forum, as well as the United Nations' "Agenda 2030."

"As many faith leaders, biblical scholars, and experts have asserted, this presidential election is crucial for the future of America, freedom, and liberty," Anderson wrote in "The Trump Code."

"If Vice President Kamala Harris wins, the globalist elite will likely accelerate their plans for the Great Reset and the new world order.

“In addition to the Great Reset, the United Nations’ Agenda 2030, which is being implemented across the US, is a major threat to liberty. This plan seeks totalitarian control of the planet, including our economy, country, lives, and children.”

Anderson’s message is clear: This is America’s Nineveh Moment, and the 40 days of prayer, fasting and repentance are essential to saving the nation from spiritual and political collapse.

Prayers of the Presidents: A Legacy of Prayer for America

Alongside Anderson’s prophetic call, Dr. Larry Keefauver’s “Prayers of the Presidents” offers a historical and spiritual roadmap for the campaign. The book provides a collection of prayers, proclamations and faith statements made by all 46 US Presidents, from George Washington to Joe Biden, showcasing how faith and prayer have guided the nation through times of crisis.

“Prayers of the Presidents” also includes prayers to help Christians pray for their leaders, in line with the biblical instruction found in 1 Timothy 2:1-7. Dr. Keefauver highlights powerful moments in American history, such as Abraham Lincoln’s Proclamation 97, which called for a National Day of Humiliation, Fasting and Prayer during the Civil War. Lincoln later credited this day, and God’s intervention, for turning the tide in the war, helping the North win, saving the country and ending the scourge of slavery. This legacy of presidential prayer serves as a reminder that prayer has always been the foundation of America’s survival and success.

A Unified Call for Prayer and Repentance

Together, Troy Anderson, Dr. Paul McGuire, Pastor Paul Begley and Dr. Larry Keefauver are issuing a unified call to believers across America. The “40 Days to Save America” campaign is modeled after Lincoln’s call for national prayer and is a vital opportunity for Christians to seek God’s mercy and guidance for the nation’s future.

This collaborative effort highlights both Anderson’s prophetic insights from “The Trump Code” and Keefauver’s historical focus on presidential prayers from “Prayers of the Presidents.” Both authors emphasize the critical nature of this moment in American history and the need for unified, collective prayer.

- When: September 26 to November 5, 2024
- Why: To unite Christians in prayer, fasting, and repentance, seeking God’s intervention to save America from judgment, restore its spiritual foundation, and encourage people to vote biblical values in the Presidential Election.
- Goal: To bring about a national revival and prevent America from falling under globalist control aligned with the “Great Reset.”
