

Anne Graham Lotz Warns Future Generations of the Coming Evil

Anne Graham Lotz is praying in earnest for her children and grandchildren. She says she is appalled at what is happening now and what will happen in the future in America if our nation doesn't come back to God.

"We are in a spiritual and moral free fall," the daughter of Billy Graham said in a recent Instagram post. "A great darkness of lies, unbelief, ignorance and evil covers the world. People are living as though You do not exist.

"I shudder to think of what future generations will face, the generations of my children and grandchildren. Unless they rebuild the foundation of authentic faith, our nation will crumble. It is crumbling now.

"In the midst of political turmoil, racial division, social upheaval, financial uncertainty, virus pandemics and worldwide chaos, I earnestly pray for my children and grandchildren ... "

In her post, Lotz prayed that God would redeem her from her parenting mistakes and failures. It's one we all could lift up to our Lord and Savior at this time to save our future generations from the demonic forces that are trying to tear our families apart.

"Help my children and grandchildren overcome the consequences of my sins," Lotz prayed. "Keep them from falling away from You into sin. I long to see them one day presented before Your glorious presence without fault and with great joy. On that day, I will humbly bow and worship You for Your goodness, grace and faithfulness to all generations.

“You have been our dwelling place throughout the generations. Your faithfulness, Your fame, Your promises, Your covenant, Your authority, Your glory continue year after year, decade after decade, century after century, millennium after millennium. You have not changed since the beginning. Your Word is forever settled.

Lotz’s brother, Franklin Graham, recently praised billionaire Elon Musk for his comments and his call for harsh penalties for anyone who harms children in the name of transgenderism.

“God will judge our nation,” Graham said. “This madness needs to stop.”

Musk also warned Americans recently about the elimination of free speech and today’s woke cancel culture, which is attempting to take hold in our schools and universities right now. He made this declaration on Bill Maher’s “Real Time” show recently. {eoa}
