

Are We Living in Matthew 24 Today?

With the threat of North Korean missiles, the detonation of the mother of all bombs and Syria ever in flux, many believers are beginning to wonder if these are the days Jesus prophesied in Matthew 24: 4-14.

While on the Mount of Olives, the Son of God said:

Take heed that no one deceives you. For many will come in My name, saying, "I am the Christ," and will deceive many. You will hear of wars and rumors of wars. See that you are not troubled. For all these things must happen, but the end is not yet. For nation will rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom. There will be famines, epidemics, and earthquakes in various places. All these are the beginning of sorrows.

Then they will hand you over to be persecuted and will kill you. And you will be hated by all nations for My name's sake. Then many will fall away, and betray one another, and hate one another. And many false prophets will rise and will deceive many. Because iniquity will abound, the love of many will grow cold. But he who endures to the end shall be saved. And this gospel of the kingdom will be preached throughout the world as a testimony to all nations, and then the end will come.
