

Are You a Monday Morning Atheist?

Doug Spada said, "We are never more like our heavenly Father, and Jesus, than when we are working."

Are you dreading Monday? Do you start to lose your joy come Sunday evening?

What if instead of dreading Monday, you actually looked forward to it? What if instead of moaning about Monday, you prayed away your dread, and replaced it with thanks and joy and intention?

What if you prayed that come Monday morning, you would feel God in your work and His pleasure as you work? That your work would glorify God? That you would be the best ambassador for God your workplace has ever seen?

So how about you? Are you ready to be used by God in your work? To see Monday as a tremendous opportunity? To enjoy your work and to glorify God? And maybe even give your co-workers a glimpse of our heavenly Father?

Listen to this episode of the iWork4Him PowerPod Podcast titled, Are You a Monday Morning Atheist?, and tune into the iWork4Him PowerPod Podcast on the Charisma Podcast Network.
{eo}