

Be a Forerunner

☒ Forerunners are willing to go where they have never been before! They understand that to be successful in their calling or in their business they need to leave their comfort zones.

Forerunners step out of the familiar and are the first to do what has not been done before. Sir Edmund Hillary, along with his guide Tenzing Norgay, was one of the first men to reach the top of Mount Everest. After Hillary achieved the seemingly impossible conquest in 1953, hundreds of people have been able to ascend the summit of Mount Everest. Yet until Hillary attempted what had not been done before, Mount Everest stood as a mountain of the impossible.

There may be hundreds of people waiting for you to step out of your comfort zone, and do what has never been done before. These people need a forerunner to open the way for them. They need you to go before them, and do what you may be uncomfortable doing. Also remember to help others climb their seemingly impossible mountain. Be the forerunner you were created to be!
