

Beloved North Carolina Pastor Robert Steele Dies After Medical Emergency at Church

Churches across North Carolina's Piedmont Triad are mourning the sudden loss of a longtime pastor and ministry leader who dedicated decades of his life to serving the church and strengthening Christian families.

Robert Steele, executive administrator of Triad Baptist Church and Triad Baptist Christian Academy in Kernersville, died Sunday evening, March 8, after suffering a medical emergency at the church. He was 62.

Church leaders shared the news in a message to their congregation, describing Steele's passing as a profound loss to the church community.
