

Billy Graham: What Heaven Is Truly Like

“No longer will there be a curse upon anything. For the throne of God and of the Lamb will be there, and his servants will worship him” (Rev. 22:3).

The Bible indicates that heaven will be a place of great understanding and knowledge of things that we never learned down here. Sir Isaac Newton, when an old man, said to one who praised his wisdom, “I am as a child on the seashore picking up a pebble here and a shell there, but the great ocean of truth still lies before me.” And Thomas Edison once said, “I do not know one millionth part of one percent about anything.” Many of the mysteries of God—the heartaches, trials, disappointments, tragedies and the silence of God in the midst of suffering—will be revealed in heaven.
