

Broken

Broken

Travis Thrasher

FaithWords

Laila has a great life, but a crisis of faith leads her to become a call girl. In self-defense, she kills a client. Even though she was justified, she is wracked with guilt and doesn't dare tell anyone her secret. But a stranger who knows and is following her. Laila doesn't realize he's a supernatural being. She must trust in God again for protection from the demons. But will she wait until it's too late to cry out for salvation?