

Christian Grandma on the Brink of Homelessness Breaks Down After Stranger Hands Her $1,500, but He Was Just Getting Started

A social media do-gooder has helped raise almost $200,000 for a struggling grandmother who refused to take a $100 bill that didn't belong to her.

The heartwarming incident unfolded earlier this week, when viral TikTok sensation Jimmy Darts posted a video of himself approaching a woman and her son inside an Oklahoma Walmart.

Jimmy Darts, who uses his massive platform of 3.7 million followers to help the needy, approached Amanda, a single mom and grandmother.
