

Church Shocks Pizza Delivery Woman to Sobs

A church's random act of kindness puts Ellen DeGeneres' Oscars' pizza stunt to shame.

To conclude a monthlong series on generosity, Sycamore Creek Church decided to overwhelm a pizza delivery woman with blessing.

"We've been teaching our church this last month about being generous, and so we did something special for you today," Pastor Steve Markle tells the driver as she walks on stage, armed with pizza. "We took up a special offering for a tip for you."

What happens next will give you goosey bumps. Watch the video to see.