

Contagious Hope: Enter the Presence of God With Katie Souza

Liz Wright and Katie Souza have a radically transformational conversation on a recent episode of Live Your Best Life With Liz Wright.

For a large portion of Katie's life, she lived as a career criminal, dealing meth and collecting drug debts. She thrived on aggression and power; even those who owed money for drugs were known to call the police about her terrifying harassment. Eventually, the federal marshals arrested her, sending her into prison with a 12 $\frac{1}{2}$ -year sentence.

Katie was constantly put in isolated lockdown due to her violent behavior, but that is exactly where she met the Lord. Her life was powerfully changed as miraculous experiences began happening to her. God even told her she would have a healing anointing, and she started praying for her fellow inmates. One day, the Lord said He would get her out of prison early and gave her the exact date she would be released. Of course, it happened just as He said.

After becoming a Christian, Katie found she still had soulish reactions and bitterness. As she spent time in the depths of His presence, she received radical healing, and that is when the miraculous really opened up in her life. She now has a powerful ministry in over 4,000 prisons where miracles, healings, salvations and mass deliverances happen regularly. Katie shared that we are transformed into His likeness as we commune with Him in the glory, and that is where our souls and bodies are changed to be like His.

The miracle realm increasingly opened up for Katie as she received soul healing in the presence of God. This is available for you! Katie's life is a message of contagious hope, and no matter how far you've walked down a dark path, He has the power to bring you home to His heart.
