

Curt Landry: A Restoration of Hope, Dreams and Desires

Are you experiencing hope deferred, discouragement and confusion in this season? The enemy wants to keep our mouths closed and our eyes shut. He is trying to steal our dreams and visions, putting people to sleep and causing them to be hopeless.

There is an attack on the revelation and vision that God is releasing to the remnant who desires to carry His heavenly vision.

It is in His strategy, wisdom and clarity that we can be bold, having greater courage and empowerment, demonstrating His will.

We are in a time of preparation. There are going to be strategies and spiritual downloads where the Lord is going to reveal how to put to death the Haman-spirit—the spirit that wants to keep our mouths closed and our eyes shut.

The Lord is inviting us to draw near.

He wants us to ask Him for an increase of sight and wisdom. This season, from Purim to Pentecost, is a critical time for focused, on-purpose intimacy with the Lord. He is bringing His remnant to a higher place of vision, clarity and specific instruction.

In this podcast, Lana Vawser and I will discuss how the Lord is releasing new vision and restoration among His people so that discouragement and confusion are cut off.

Remember this: You are called for today. You are not rejected, even when your circumstances and the world are against you. You only need time to reset your love on the Father, and the Father will reset His love on you.

He is catapulting the remnant onto the red carpet of restoration so that we can rest and receive what He has for us as we fix our gaze upon His loving eyes and run into His comforting arms.
