

David Crowder Asks for Prayer After ‘Emergency Surgery’ Forces Him to Cancel Shows

Christian singer-songwriter David Crowder announced Wednesday he had to have “emergency surgery” after breaking his leg, forcing him to cancel future shows.

“I’m not near as athletic as I thought I was, I’ve broken my leg and had to have emergency surgery including some plates and screws,” he wrote in an Instagram post with a picture of him recovering in a hospital bed. “[I]’m on the mend and we will figure out how to get back there as soon as we can! Thanks so much for the prayers.”

Breaking News. Spirit-Filled Stories. Subscribe to Charisma on YouTube now!

The “Glorious Day” recording artist shared a video with the Appalachian Fair in Gray, Tennessee, where he was scheduled to perform.

To order Jonathan Cahn’s new book, The Avatar, visit .

“Listen,” he said with his classic southern drawl. “I cannot wait to get there.”

Get your FREE CHARISMA NEWSLETTERS today! Stay up-to-date with current issues, Holy Spirit news, Christian teachings, Charisma videos & more!

Crowder, 53, said he is recuperating well, joking from his recovery room that surgeons performed “basic carpentry, carpentry for bones” to repair what was damaged.

“We’re gonna be back at Appalachian Fair because you’re my people and I gotta see you soon," he said.

Join Charisma Magazine Online to follow everything the Holy Spirit is doing around the world!

The comments section of Crowder's Instagram post is filled with well-wishes from fellow Christian artists.

To read the full story, visit our content partners at CBN.

Reprinted with permission from . Copyright © 2025 The Christian Broadcasting Network Inc. All rights reserved.