

Did John Paul Jackson Interpret a Prophetic Dream That Donald Trump Would Be President?

Years before Donald Trump had an inkling to run for president, God gave this woman a dream about a bulldozer wrecking through the White House.

The woman wrote into Joni's Table Talk, and prophet John Paul Jackson was on the panel to discuss the dream.

Looking back, News2Morrow's Lou Comunale believes Jackson was prophesying about Trump's turn at the presidency.

"The great thing is this, the bulldozer," Jackson says in his interpretation. "You're seeing man's plans, but you see God saying, 'I have a plan that will bulldoze right through the plans of men.'"

If man's plan is Hillary Clinton, does that mean God's plan is Trump?
