

Disturbing Prophetic Dream: 'My People Eat Spiritual Food but Ignore the Massacre Outside Their Walls'

On May 20, 2019, I awakened from a startling dream of people being in a cafeteria in what appeared to be a contemporary hotel. They were getting their food on trays and seating themselves. I was also in line to get some food when I looked out the window of the cafeteria and saw a horrific sight. The windows were halfway covered with sea water and there were people laying on rafts that appeared to be like large dead sea animals resembling whales. The people could not keep their grip on the rafts and kept falling off them, and each time they fell off, or their arms or legs got in the water they were being eaten by sharks. I was sick to my stomach and tried to find a way to rescue them but as I looked around no one seemed to care as they ate their food and continued to talk and just watch this massacre outside in the water.

I woke from the dream at this point feeling rather helpless, yet with a burden of responsibility to do something. I began to pray on this for about 24 hours, and the Lord spoke to me clearly and said, "The cafeteria represents the many churches that watch out the windows of my houses of worship, eating spiritual food, yet doing nothing about those who are mine dying in the waters of life. The brokenness of my people is like blood for sharks, and the forces are coming to ravage them. I need My people to stop being comfortable and get out there, and I will save them."

I was convicted in heart and soul assessing what I can do personally and how I can share with the church, that not only does the Lord want to save the lost souls, He also wants to heal the brokenness of His very own people. Our brokenness is like blood for the demonic forces. These forces prey on the wounded and hurting. Yet the church is to find them within its own body and go out and find them in the streets and retrieve them from the depths of this mass sorrow.

I asked God, "How can we do this when our churches are so comfortable?" He said it is in uncomfortableness that the spiritual gifts are activated. In other words, in the comfort and power of His Spirit, we are commissioned to go into uncomfortable places. and our gifts will be activated. Since I pastor a church alongside my husband, I had to look at my own church and assess whether we were doing this, and if not, how could we improve.

God told me that at this time, His people must learn to burn with fire and passion for Him and that will overflow His Spirit into a need to save the lost sheep but also heal His sheep who are broken and in need of repair. We must learn to light our own fire by fanning into flame that which Christ has given us by the laying on of hands, the activation of our spiritual gifts.

The apostle Paul had to remind Pastor Timothy to do this very thing.

In 2 Timothy 1:5-8 (NIV), the apostle Paul says to Timothy:

I am reminded of your sincere faith, which first lived in your grandmother Lois and in your mother Eunice and, I am persuaded, now lives in you also. For this reason, I remind you to fan into flame the gift of God, which is in you through the laying on of my hands. For the Spirit God gave us does not make us timid, but gives us power, love and self-discipline. So, do not be ashamed of the testimony about our Lord or of me his prisoner. Rather, join with me in suffering for the gospel, by the power of God.

We have a job to fan into flame the gifts of God. We must learn to start our own fires. So many times the church wants someone to start their fire. Well, that is great, and necessary at times, and God is good and sends those with evangelistic gifts into churches to do this. As a revivalist myself who goes into churches and ignites fires, I understand this gifting, but the greater blessing is when the people of God know how to light their own fire without help. They know how to begin to ignite their personal flame. When the fire burns low in their lives, and the embers are all they see, they can begin to blow on the embers and stir them so that a flame can begin again.

Evangelists in our churches are necessary, but it takes more than a mere visitation by a revivalist who lights fires and brings the motivating power of God to the people of God. We as the body of Christ must tap into His fire as individuals within His global church body and know how to keep our own fire burning.

The word says in Revelation 1:14-16, "The hair on his head was white like wool, as white as snow, and his eyes were like blazing fire. His feet were like bronze glowing in a furnace, and his voice was like the sound of rushing waters. In his right hand he held seven stars, and coming out of his mouth was a sharp, double-edged sword. His face was like the sun shining in all its brilliance."

His eyes are a blazing fire. He has fire in Him. This is a characteristic of God. His feet are like bronze glowing in a furnace. His face is like the sun shining in all its brilliance. He is an on-fire God, and we His children who are a part of Him should be too.

In the Song of Solomon 8:6 (MEV), the Word says, "Set me as a seal upon your heart, as a seal upon your arm; for love is strong as death, passion fierce as the grave. Its fires of desire are as ardent flames, a most intense flame."

He is the flame, and we must tap into His flame daily. As Pentecost is quickly approaching on Sunday, June 9, 2019, we must remember that the church was ignited by flames of fire.

Acts 2:1-4 says, "When the day of Pentecost had come, they were all together in one place. Suddenly a sound like a mighty rushing wind came from heaven, and it filled the whole house where they were sitting. There appeared to them tongues as of fire, being distributed and resting on each of them, and they were all filled with the Holy Spirit and began to speak in other tongues, as the Spirit enabled them to speak."
