

Do Christians Have a Voice in America?

As evil advances in America, faith takes a backseat, Revelation in the News host Zach Drew says.

“Christians once had a say in the direction this country was heading,” Drew says. “The direction that the pulpits were facing is the direction America would go. If Christians are taking a backseat, that doesn’t mean the devil is sitting this one out.”

Rather than lament Satan’s apparent gains, Drew and fellow hosts Sasha Volz and Andrew Bellers say Christians must take action while they wait for revival.
