

Do Our Schools Teach Science or Brainwash Our Children?

Around the world, most public schools are teaching the Big Bang theory as fact. This is not only incredibly biased and one-sided, but it is also an extremely dangerous concept that leads us away from the truth regarding our Creator. It leads us away from the truths of Scripture and the Torah, the first books of the Bible.

One textbook says: "Eighteen to 20 billion years ago all the matter in the universe was concentrated into one very dense, very hot region that may have been much smaller than a period on this page."

Another claims that: "from this state of nothingness the universe began in a gigantic explosion about 16.5 billion years ago."

Teachers are encouraged to: "Stress that the earth is thought to be at least 4.5 billion years old"

This is not unbiased, factual science. These are brainwashing techniques.

If we allow teachers and educators to convince us that the first chapter of the Bible is only a failed attempt by man to document the history of the universe, then how do we distinguish what parts of the Bible to believe as fact and what parts to disregard as mere fables?

Second Peter 3:17 (KJV) warns: "beware lest ye also, being led away with the error of the wicked, fall from your own steadfastness."

These people think they're dealing with a form of science, and I would agree: science fiction.
