

Dominant Rapper Nicki Minaj: 'I Serve the God That Parted the Red Sea'

Nicki Minaj, one of the top women in rap, professed her salvation in a song that's now No. 2 on the Christian iTunes chart.

Tasha Cobbs Leonard's single, "I'm Getting Ready ft. Nicki Minaj," initially dropped in August but is rapidly gaining popularity.

The rapper joined forces with the gospel sensation with these lyrics:

*Yo, aye yo, beach house vibes, maneuver the jet ski/
'Cause-'cause I serve the God that parted the Red Sea/
Multi-million dollars commercials for Pepsi/
From food-stamps to more ice than Gretzky/
I don't gotta talk, the Lord defends me/
I watch them all fall for going against me/
'Cause me and all my angels shot the devil up/
While you was trying to pull me down, I levelled up/
I levelled up twice, I levelled up three times/
He tapped 'em and told 'em "she's mine"/
So even when I cried I knew I'd be fine/
Prepare for a miracle blessing in these times/
Now praise Him, raise Him, name it, claim it/
Every tongue that rises up against me, shame it/
I breathe success in and out my lungs/
I got the power of life and death coming out of my tongue.*

Watch the video to hear for yourself (2:40 for the rap).