

Donald Trump's New Video Shares a Hilarious Wealth-Building Strategy

Monday, Republican presidential nominee Donald Trump's campaign released a hilarious 60-second video titled "Get Rich Quick: Hillary Clinton's Pay-to-Play Guide."

It describes the 10 steps Clinton took to quickly achieve her great personal wealth, as well as how those actions also had a negative impact on U.S. foreign policy and the safety of everyday Americans. Trump also included the following remarks with the video, which he posted to Facebook:

"As Secretary of State, Hillary Clinton abused her power to get millions of dollars for the Clinton Foundation, and in return, granted so many favors to the establishment and elites. SO unbelievably corrupt. The system is rigged and as President, I promise you, I will end it! You will always be FIRST—not donors, not special interests, not Washington insiders—you! #AmericaFirst!"

In its first eight hours, the video had been shared more than 56,000 times and had more than 84,000 likes.
