

Dr. James Dobson Has an Urgent Message Just for You

Powerful social movements and passions are “blowing in the wind,” and most of them have dangerous implications for the institution of the family, religious liberty, our children and unborn babies and the country at large. The ship of state, on which we all are passengers, is steaming into uncharted waters, and the midterm elections occurring on Nov. 6 will determine its course for decades to come.

Christians must go to the polls tomorrow and let their voices be heard! Turnout will determine the outcome. What will you do about it? Will you sit out this election? God help us if you and I fail to fulfill our moral responsibility. We, the voters, have it within our power to protect our Constitution, preserve our system of government, and secure the blessings of liberty for us and our posterity.

Will you, my brothers and sisters, take 30 minutes to go to the polls? Before doing that, I ask you to become familiar with the issues so you can cast an informed vote. And even before you do that, bow humbly and prayerfully before our merciful Lord and ask Him to guide how you make the choices that appear on the ballot. Do everything you can to influence this election. {eo}
