

Erasing Innocence and Indoctrinating a Generation

Author Karol Markowicz says that if your kids attend public schools, they are not alright.

While Christian parents may have laid a Christlike foundation in their children's lives, today's public school youth are being forced to fight a battle that is unlike any other in American history. Also a columnist for the New York Post, Markowicz says the left is waging an all-out battle on the American family, and it continues to intensify daily.

Markowicz says today's "woke" agenda is leading your children to question every building block of society and to rebuild their concept of reality. If they can make your children change their values, the left agenda would consider it a victory.

But, Markowicz says, we can't let the "wokeness" of our culture win. The leftist agenda says parents have no business telling schools what they should teach our children. Never mind that Critical Race Theory and the LGBTQ agenda has engulfed the public school systems, attempting to erase the innocence of our youth in an attempt to indoctrinate a generation.

Schools with pornography in their libraries are apathetic to the damage being done to our children.

"It is a right-wing bogeyman," Markowicz wrote in a column for Fox News Digital. "Yet parents at school after school keep discovering these books at the school library."

As Markowicz frankly puts it, "Wokeness pushes a separation between parent and child. We are seeing it happen in America today. Kids are told to keep secrets from their parents, and sometimes the secrets are life-changing.

One Christian teacher stood up to her school district for refusing to comply with the mandates of the district's gender policies, and she was promptly fired for it. She simply would not compromise her Christian values and lie to the children she had been entrusted with.

Markowicz regales the story of a Long Island teacher who had transitioned a child from a girl to a boy, behind the backs of the parents. The child is nine years old.

The teacher assigned the student a new boy name and referred to the child as a boy. The parents did not know about it until their child began to have "suicidal ideation."

☒ "Parents who think they are safe from the reaches of wokeness because they live in a conservative area have to think again."

Markowicz's new book titled, "Stolen Youth: How Radicals Are Erasing Innocence and Indoctrinating a Generation," says that as concerned parents and American citizens, we have to understand what truly is going on in our schools to do something about it. "'Stolen Youth' provides an urgent deep dive into issues surrounding the woke indoctrination happening in politics, education, medicine, mental health, entertainment and culture.

Markowicz says, "We must now go on the offensive to protect our kids. This book sheds a bright light on the reason why. We can no longer afford to stay ignorant. Our children's lives and the survival of our families are at stake. " {eo}
