

'Everybody Loves Raymond' Actress Under Massive Attack for This Tweet

Naysayers trolled comedy TV mom Patricia Heaton after she posted a political opinion contrary to Hollywood standards.

"Choose, celebrate, support Life! Thanks Northwest Center!" the star of ABC's The Middle tweeted last week with a link to a crisis pregnancy center.

Fans retaliated with bitter attacks against one another and the former Everybody Loves Raymond actress.

One fan tweeted, "@PatriciaHeaton life is beautiful especially when everyone else mind their business and stays out of the woman's uterus! Mind your business!"

Another replied: "@PatriciaHeaton Thank you for sharing this, knowing it is not the PC opinion. Life is from conception, and is never a mistake."

Others insinuated threats: "@PatriciaHeaton I'm all for post birth abortions for actors meddling in others lives that are none of their business. give yourself one."

But still, support resounded.

"@PatriciaHeaton Good for you! Who knew ppl could come so unglued over a tweet about choosing and celebrating life? Keep up the good work!" one fan posted.

Another: "@PatriciaHeaton Glad to see you stand up for the unborn children, the little ones that can not speak. Thank you Ms. Heaton"
