

EXCLUSIVE 'Finger of God 2' Clip: Randy Clark on Your Authority in Christ

In this clip from the upcoming film, Finger of God 2, Randy Clark talks about the authority we all have in Christ, and how the point of the gospel isn't just to get saved and go to heaven when you die.

Finger of God 2 is the newest film from Darren Wilson and WP Films. In this follow up from Darren's original Finger of God, Director Will Hacker goes on an epic journey around the world in an attempt to find the true point of miracles. He films in the Middle East, with Korn guitarist Brian "Head" Welch in Northern Ireland, with drug addicts in California, with the underground church in China and even has a showdown with a Muslim king in Africa. It's all part of another exciting adventure from the studio that created Furious Love, Father of Lights and the Holy Ghost films.

The U.S. Tour for the film begins on Sept 1 in Ft Lauderdale and winds across the United States over the following three months. You can get free tickets to a showing near you, or even bring the film to your church by visiting .
