

Find Your Voice in the 'Redemption Revolution' That Scatters Darkness

Welcome to today—the moment where you are living tomorrow's history.

Let this sink in, and let it challenge you to rise and run for everything Jesus has promised for your life. Even if you don't know it yet, God is positioning you to find your rightful place on a mountain of influence. Your influence is connected to your voice. You may have found yourself intimidated in past seasons, but the war on your voice is over!

Intimidation is a fear tactic used to control or manipulate outcomes. Can you look back and see how intimidation has been used to control you? Used to shut your voice down and silence the very purpose for which God created you?

Here's why intimidation tactics work on us. It comes down to this: misplaced identity. Do I really know who God is? And do I really know what He says about me? When knowing who God is and what He says and thinks about us becomes our rooted identity, we live from these truths, and intimidation tactics no longer work.

There is a redemptive revolution of fierce femininity coming upon the earth, and it will make darkness shake and flee as daughters take their rightful place. These daughters are not fighting for position but finding a seat at the table our Abba Father has prepared for us.

You are more loved by God than you know; you are more liked by God than you desire; and you are more favored by God than you have experienced. The war on your voice is over! You will speak as one who is anointed and as one who has been with

Jesus. You are the light of the world, and you are dangerous to the darkness. {eoa}

Connect with Daniella Gibbons and Booth To Ballot on Facebook and Instagram or by emailing boothtoballot@. Listen and subscribe to the Booth to Ballot podcast on Charisma Podcast Network.

Read articles like this one and other Spirit-led content in our new platform, CHARISMA PLUS.