

First Look: Christian Leaders Speak Out About 'Noah' Movie

After my original blog post recommending Christians see Paramount Pictures' upcoming movie Noah and subsequent interviews in the national media, the studio called and asked our production company, Cooke Pictures, to create a short video feature with Christian leaders talking about the movie.

All of these leaders have seen the film, and after the short video, keep watching for a series of quotes about the film from additional respected pastors and ministry leaders:

Phil Cooke is a filmmaker, media critic and adviser to some of the largest churches, ministries and nonprofit organizations in the world. He's the founder of the Influence Lab.