

4 Dead, 5 Wounded in Kansas City Bar Shooting

Four people were killed and five others wounded in a shooting in a members-only bar early Sunday morning in Kansas City, Kansas, according to published reports.

Four of the victims died inside The Tequila Bar, a private venue. The other five are in stable condition at a local hospital.

Reports say none of the victims have been identified and the motive remains unclear. Reports also say police found handgun shell casings at the scene, but it's not clear whether more than one gunman was involved.

Kansas City detectives are looking for surveillance video of the area.
