

Generation Ex-Christian

Drew Dyck | Moody Publishers

Recent research indicates that by the time young people reach age 22, a large percentage are leaving not only the church but also the faith.

In his book, new author Drew Dyck exposes this crisis, identifies seven types of “leavers” and offers effective responses for reaching each type.

Readers will gain insights from the practical tips, strategies and the real-life stories of ex-Christians Dyck interviews. This book will also help equip parents, leaders and others to reignite the faith of these prodigals.
