

George H.W. Bush Endorses Mitt Romney for President

(Reuters/Donna Carson)

Republican presidential candidate Mitt Romney (L) picks up the formal endorsement of George H.W. Bush and former first lady Barbara Bush in Houston on Thursday. The former president had already expressed his support for Romney in December, but fully backed the candidate this week. "Barbara and I are very proud to fully and enthusiastically endorse and support our old friend Mitt Romney," he said. "He's a good man, he'll make a great president."