

Getting Set for Your Spiritual Journey

How do we walk in alignment with the Lord?

There are different levels of understanding and different ways of walking in instruction. But we must remember that God's ways are higher. When we submit to God's calendar and His heart, His instruction becomes clearer. It is then that we can walk in alignment with His ways.

In this podcast, I'll help you discover how to "set your clock" so God can "set your provision." God wants discernment to be released into your life so that you can know your identity and walk into your destiny.
