

Getting to Heaven

✖ Don Piper and Cecil
Murphey | Berkley

Don Piper and Cecil Murphey, the pair behind the New York Times best-seller

90 Minutes in Heaven and Heaven Is Real, reunite to tackle the subject again in Getting to Heaven: Departing Instructions for Your Life Now. Piper again relays his story of dying and visiting heaven, this time coupled with stories from others and Jesus' final days.

The book, inspired by the authors' interactions with readers anxious about the afterlife, explores the subject to offer a sense of peace and calm. The authors present dying not as something to fear, but as a transition into a paradise free from worry, disease and sorrow. At the end of each chapter, reader challenges—such as “If you know you will die in the next 90 minutes, who are the people you need to forgive?”—are presented for further study and contemplation.

In Getting to Heaven, Piper and Murphey offer a guidebook on the eternal reward promised by Christ for His followers, with scriptural descriptions alongside observations that include Piper's own visit.
