

Hillsong Worship Leader Gets 'All Clear' From Surgeon After Spending Morning Worshipping

Chelsea Lee Taylor, a Hillsong worship leader, was given an "all clear" from her surgeon on Tuesday, according to a friend's Instagram post.

Emma Fellers, creative administrator at Hillsong Church, posted an update from Taylor's mother, who said they received the "best news ever."

"NO MORE SURGERIES... CHELSE GOT THE ALL CLEAR FROM THE SURGEON TODAY... Praise our wonderful God," Taylor's mother wrote. "We spent the morning worshipping before she went to theatre and she can't wait to share this with everyone... the kindness of God... and she is so so grateful! <3 She said to me this morning, mum, I can't do this any more and we just prayed and put Bens song on, "see a victory" and then started worshipping. Sooo precious... <3"
