

‘Christian Squad’ Going Through Purifying Fire

Circumstantial evidence of the working of the Holy Spirit to form a Christian version of “The Squad” in U.S. government and counteract the influence of anti-Christian freedom, anti-America, woke progressive politicians, such as Alexandria Ocasio-Cortez, D-N.Y.; Ilhan Omar, D-Minn.; Ayanna Pressley, D-Mass. and Rashida Tlaib, D-Mich., has been detected.

Female Republicans have been identified as going through a purifying process that has the hallmarks of the Holy Spirit. One has lost her business. Another has been falsely accused. A third is facing opposition from an establishment Republican who has shown himself to lack spiritual discernment. Another, who is Hispanic, has been disparagingly called a “taco.”

These women are the foundation of the Christian Squad, a newly formed alignment of Spirit-filled believers who are mounting up to replace the cultural impact, clout and visibility of the godless, anti-life, pro-communist “mainstream media darling” version of the Squad.

While Squad members in the Democratic Party continually demonstrate selfishness, liberal hypocrisy and the characteristics of a Jezebel spirit, members of the Christian Squad consistently illustrate, in contrast, selflessness, love, Christ-honoring leadership and a life-giving Spirit.

For their faithfulness to Jesus Christ in this fallen world, the Christian Squad members are following through a godly process, mapped out with a biblical blueprint, that makes the first shall be last, and the last shall be first.

At least four female Republican political figures with Jesus-first courage and ever-increasing name recognition are currently being put into a modern-day, digital version of the 'fiery furnace' reminiscent of Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego. Figuratively and spiritually speaking, Jesus is in the digital fire with these courageous women of God.

The use of the name "Squad" describes "a self-chosen group of people that you want to identify with." These female Republicans, who represent a newfound freedom for women, identify with the resurrected Son of God.

The Lord identifies with these women as well. Jesus loved His Father and was a nationalist for heaven. Landlords rejected Him when He appeared on the scene with prophetic significance. Pharisees, who had a penchant for pleasing establishment politicians, opposed Him and supported His enemies. Jesus was also called insulting names, mocked and dismissed, as if the woman at the well was scooping up tacos.

The identifies of these Republican women, who don't need to pander to cultural leftists with condescending use of "pronouns" on the wrong side of history, have come to light amid harsh scrutiny, persecution, trials and tribulations, which the Holy Spirit has evidently been using to strip away all things from them that are not of God.

Has the Holy Spirit's sanctification process moved so resoundingly into the political realm?

The Who's Who List

The Christian Squad, which is taking shape at the federal and state levels beyond just the U.S. House of Representatives, includes: Marjorie Taylor Greene, Lauren Boebert, Kari Lake and Mayra Flores.

Congresswoman Marjorie Taylor Greene, R-Ga., was recently criticized by MSNBC's Rachel Maddow and on Twitter for calling herself a "Christian" and a "nationalist"—in other words, a person who loves Jesus and her country.

The leftist fascists, brimming with their anti-Christian bigotry, insist that such love is dangerous to America and “democracy,” despite the fact that the country was ironically built on the values of Jesus, nationalism and freedom of religion.

Rachel Maddow is smearing me with lies about my faith and love for America and trying to connect me to someone I’ve never heard of or know anything about.

In reality, being a Christian means I acknowledge I’m a sinner and my savior is a Jewish man named Jesus who I believe..

1/7

– Rep. Marjorie Taylor Greene (@RepMTG) July 26, 2022

Nationalist isn’t a bad word. It means you care about your country.

– Rep. Marjorie Taylor Greene (@RepMTG) July 25, 2022

Congresswoman Lauren Boebert, R-Colo., recently lost her gun-themed “Shooters Grill” restaurant in Colorado because the new landlord of her business’ building refused to renew her lease. She and her staff were turned out into the cold, presumably because of her politics challenging the liberal elite, who control corporations, educational institutions, Hollywood and the mainstream media.

Nonetheless, Boebert says she will not be deterred from her mission to fulfil God’s purposes for America in the spirit of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. (Read about Boebert’s charismatic sermon at the Cornerstone Christian Center in Colorado.)

If God calls you to it, he’ll see you through it!

– Lauren Boebert (@laurenboebert) July 17, 2022

Arizona gubernatorial candidate Kari Lake, who is a Spirit-filled Christian with a prophetic voice, was dealt a blow recently when former Vice President Mike Pence opposed Lake and threw his support to Lake's opponent.

A lesser person would be discouraged, however, Lake revels in the public endorsement of President Trump, the 45th president and, in all possibility, the prophetically (future) 47th president of the United States. (Read about Kari Lake's prophetic style.)

.@KariLake: "The most important thing—we've got to bring Him back.

No, I'm not talking about who you think. Though, I do agree with you on that.

We've got to bring HIM back"

– Kari Lake for AZ Governor (@KariLake) July 25, 2022

Mayra Flores, who won a historic victory recently in Texas, was disparagingly lumped into the "taco" demographic that First Lady Jill Biden sees through her disingenuous, far-Left viewpoint. Earlier this summer, Biden compared Latinos to "breakfast tacos" during a speech to an advocacy group in San Antonio.

Flores told Fox News that she is not surprised that Democrats like Biden look down on Hispanic people and think they will get Latino votes by simply handing out tacos and playing Latin music. The Holy Spirit has elevated Flores' expectations for America's leaders, including herself.

Put God first in everything you do.

– Mayra Flores (@MayraFlores2022) July 24, 2022

Reports on the ground are that additional women will be added to the Christian Squad between now and January 2023. Candidates include Anna Paulina Luna (Florida), Cassy Garcia (Texas), Wendy Rogers (Arizona) and Sarah Palin (Alaska), among others.

The way the Holy Spirit is engineering circumstances, perceptions and anointing is giving indications that He is opening a spiritual portal for a God-led convergence of spiritual awakening and truth atop the bright, shining political “city on a hill” that is America.

By all accounts familiar with spiritual reality and the Father’s heart, the Holy Spirit is setting up these women in the Christian Squad for massive influence, defying traditional, mainstream, liturgical religious assumptions and perceptions.

Just as George Washington did at the birth of this nation, the Christian Squad is calling the United States of America back to God and supporting freedom of religion, as well as the freedom of prophetic speech, which Democrats are trying desperately to shut down because of its power to disrupt their Jezebel-like control, manipulation and strife.

Like the new rebels that make Christianity and conservatism “cool” as a counterculture force, the Christian Squad is speaking out to help shape a future that protects children, makes neighborhoods safer, secures the border, rejects false teachings, preserves God-given, constitutionally-protected individual rights and gives people hope again.

Anthony Hart is a freelance writer for Charisma News.