

Hometown Ties

 Melody Carlson | David C Cook

This sequel in the Four Linds series finds four 50-something friends returning to live in their childhood hometown. The women are happy to reconnect, but their years apart make it harder than expected. Each woman has her own life responsibilities, plus old resentments and new misunderstandings develop. Will they work to continue their friendships in this new season?